Dulles Hails Nasser Move To Discuss Canal Problem

FAULTY BRAKES BLAMED—Two of three men headed into the Broadway Steak House, 19 Broadway, were hospitalized, and the other was slightly injured when the above car crashed into the restaurant after hitting another car on its way down the Broadway hill last night. The driver of the car, and another, also reported injuries. Police attributed the mishap to faulty brakes. (Anner photo)

Three Men Injured as Automobile Crashes Into Front of Restaurant

Three men entering the Broadway Steak House, 19 Broadway, were injured when a car crashed into the front of the restaurant last night, and two others were hurt in the mishap, which a police report attributed to defective brakes.

MOST SERIOUSLY injured were Irving Basch, 28, of 173 Hasbrouck avenue, who suffered a badly injured right leg, cuts of the body, face and neck, and Leland DeWitt, 40, of 40 Boulevard, who was knocked several feet and suffered a head injury.

Donald Eaton, 42, of 15 Shufeldt street, who was pushed inside the restaurant, as the car, after hitting another vehicle, crashed into the entrance, and shattered four plate glass windows, suffered cuts on the hands.

ALSO INJURED was Leslie Wallace, 42, of 148 West Pierpont street, driver of the car, which crashed into the restaurant. She reported chest injuries and was to be treated by a doctor. She was arrested by Officers Floyd Krom and Benjamin Osterhoudt on an "inadequate brakes" charge, and was fined $20 when she appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino this morning.

Ann Morris, 32, of 17 Liberty street, was also reported injured and was to be treated by a doctor, but the extent of the injuries was not reported. Her car, driven by George Loughran, 34, of 91 St. James street, police said, was struck by the other car before it crashed into the restaurant.

THE CONDITION of Basch and DeWitt was reported as "apparently fair," at Kingston Hospital today. Basch's right leg was reported badly injured. He was pushed against one side of the entrance at a point where one of the plate glass windows was shattered. and DeWitt was thrown several feet down the street.

Eaton, operator of Don's Service, 52 Hasbrouck avenue, said that he and the other two had just crossed Broadway to enter the restaurant. He was walking behind the others, when they crossed the street, he said, but they had turned briefly to say hello to someone, and he walked into the restaurant ahead of them. He had just placed his hand on the door latch, he said, when the car struck the entrance with a loud crash.

A POLICE REPORT at 7:36 p. m., said the sedan involved, owned by John Wallace, 40, of 148 West Pierpont street was being driven by Leslie Wallace, of the same address, on a learner's permit. She was accompanied by John Lewis Wallace, 20, and the car was headed south on Broadway.

Also headed south on Broadway was the sedan of Ann Morris, driven by George Loughran, which, police said, was damaged on its right rear.

THE WALLACE CAR continued on after hitting the other vehicle, went up over the curb and into the restaurant, which was formerly known as the Broadway Chop House and is now operated by George Ponis.

Barbara Kavanagh, of Wurts street, who was working at the counter, assisted in attending the injured men pending arrival of a Schultz ambulance which took Basch and DeWitt to Kingston Hospital. Eaton went to the hospital in a private car. Eaton said DeWitt appeared to be in a dazed condition, and was bleeding from the head, when he first walked near him after the mishap. He was on the sidewalk near Eng's Laundry, 17 Broadway.

The restaurant continued operation with its entire front open and unprotected, through the night and today.

Employment to Decline In New York Is Report

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Regional Plan Assn. said today the New York metropolitan area's share of the national employment "probably will decline slightly" during the next 20 years.

The association said, however, that the area is continuing to develop as "the pre-eminent administrative, financial and management center of the nation. Indeed it is 'head office' for much of the world's business."

The report said the shift in regional economy "will be especially pronounced in Manhattan, where even a stable level of employment probably will not be maintained in the next two decades."

"A small though significent employment loss is expected in Manhattan. This will be heaviest in manufacturing and those wholesaling industries requiring transportation of bulky raw materials or products. Manhattan's decline should be retarded, however, by steady gains in management and financial activities and related services. Since the latter serve industrial enterprises the world over, their growth should continue for many years into the future."

The association said it made analyses of tendencies toward decentralization, the decline in the average household size, the aging housing stock and the increase in blight, lower densities and higher space standards and the exhaustion of vacant land in central areas.

It said it also took into account topography, geology, water supply, the major highway systems and rail transportation when considering factors affecting the location of future urban development.

THE REPORT placed the 1956 population in the area at 15,500,000 and predicted it would rise to between 18,100,000 and 20,900,000 in 1975, with 19,100,000 as "the most probable."

The association said the region's labor force would increase

"On the other hand," the report said, "our region is continuing to develop perhaps more strongly than ever as the pre-eminent administrative, financial and management center of the nation. Indeed it is 'head office' for much of the world's business."

President Leads Fair Straw Vote

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower was leading Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, today in the straw vote being taken by Radio Station WCCO, Minneapolis, in its booth at the Minnesota State Fair.

With voters from 86 of the state's 87 counties represented in the three days of balloting thus far, Eisenhower had 2,992 votes and Stevenson 1,916, officials of the station reported.

A similar ratio ruled for Ancher Nelsen, GOP candidate for Minnesota governor, who had 2,648 votes against the 1,917 cast to date for Gov. Orville Freeman, the Democratic incumbent.

Putnam Is Arrested On Charge

Sale of Trailer To Bonse Is Basis

Donald Putnam, 39, proprietor of Putnam Homes on Route 9W just north of Kingston, was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny second degree involving the alleged sale of a trailer which he did not own.

Complainant in the action is John C. Bonse of Oneonta, formerly of Kingston, who charges that a trailer under contract for sale to him had been removed from the Putnam Homes site. The trailer contained some of his personal belongings.

The Bonse trailer is one of a number of trailers at the site which have been repossessed by the Albany Discount Corporation which has liens on them.

Mr. Putnam was arrested by County Investigator Arthur Brown and Deputy Sheriff Peter Peterson and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harold E. Macholdt of the town of Ulster. Judge Macholdt set bail at $10,000 and adjourned the case until Friday. Attorney Sherwood Davis of Kingston represents Mr. Putnam.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said today that Mr. Putnam had accepted a $450 deposit on the trailer from Mr. Bonse who planned to take the trailer to Oneonta when the deal was completed.

The deposit was allegedly accepted by Mr. Putnam as payment on a trailer he reportedly knew he could not legally sell.

Mr. St. John said other persons had been in contact with him and there would be other complaints.

Saunders Improving

The condition of Edward M. Saunders, 29, of Tillson, who suffered chest injuries early Saturday morning when his car was reportedly forced off the highway and struck a girder of the bridge at the intersection of Routes 213 and 32 in Rosendale, was reported in "good" condition today at Kingston Hospital.

IN CUSTODY — Robert H. Drodge, 27, of Mt. Morris, Pa., was in jail without bond Aug. 27 on charges he took $21,000 from account of a customer of the First National Bank of Morgantown, W. Va. Drodge, a part-time minister, had been a teller at the bank. (AP Wirephoto)

One Boat Captain Injured in Fight, Other Is Arrested

A fist fight between two barge captains at Callanan's dock Monday night resulted in the treatment of one at Kingston Hospital and the arrest of the other on a charge of assault second degree.

Treated for lacerations of the scalp and a bruised right arm was Charles Farrell of Hoboken, N. J.

Arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Delbert Sapp and Peter Peterson was John G. Brown, 56, no home listed.

The Ulster county sheriff's office received a call at 8:10 p. m. from James Johnson, night watchman at Callanan's, that a fight was in progress on one of the stone barges. Cause of the disagreement was not immediately known.

Mr. Brown was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie of New Salem waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

Plane Fire, Arson Courses Announced

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—State Director of Safety Michael H. Prendergast today outlined for the state's volunteer firemen his department's plans for a new airplane crash fire-fighting course and an arson detection course.

Prendergast, who is a veteran volunteer fireman in Rockland county and also Democratic state chairman, was a speaker for the 84th annual convention of the Firemen's Assn. of the State of New York.

Five thousand delegates and guests are expected to attend the convention sessions, starting today and continuing through Friday. The association has 110,000 members, all volunteer firemen.

Discussing the work of the state division of safety, Prendergast said in his prepared address that airplane disasters "have ushered in a whole new concept of training in fire-fighting" and "we are ready to meet the challenge."

He added:

"Included in our plans for the immediate future is a new airplane crash fire-fighting course. I am firmly convinced that every fire-fighter in the state should have thorough training in the techniques of airplane fire extinguishment, and that every fire department should be prepared to meet this new type of emergency."

Prendergast urged the firemen to be on watch for any indication of arson, and said:

"It is, of course, impossible to train every fireman as an investigator. But every fireman can be trained to recognize a suspicious fire, to preserve evidence, to interrogate witnesses,

Arrest of Britons Adds Suez Tension

Cairo, Aug. 28. (AP)—Egypt's sudden arrest of two Britons as spies threw new fuel today on the smouldering dispute with Great Britain — already threatening to burst into flame over the Suez Canal seizure.

Security police charged that the Britons and an Egyptian associate masterminded a spy network for British intelligence. The police said the ringleaders have incriminated four other Egyptians and that "others may be implicated."

A British embassy spokesman denied the embassy received information or was in any way connected with an espionage ring.

In London, a foreign office spokesman entered a similar denial. He said the question of a British protest will be considered after all facts have been obtained.

The arrests added to tension stirred up by President Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal Co. They seemed certain to increase sentiment in Britain for a tough policy toward Egypt — possibly including the use of military force.

Held at the heavily guarded interior ministry were James Swinburn, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency in Cairo; Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi Radio-Telegraph Co. of Egypt; and El Sayed Amin Mahmud, the Egyptian.

Police seized the three at Swinburn's Cairo home yesterday.

Col. Abdel Kader Hatem, Egypt's director of information, said:

"Two years ago Egyptian authorities learned of the existence of a dangerous espionage ring which worked for British intelligence and supplied it with information regarding Egyptian armed forces and activities of various Egyptian political bodies.

"Through close and continuous observation the Egyptian Security Department finally was able to secure documents which proved members of this ring were conspiring against the security and safety of this country."

Reporters were not allowed to question Swinburn and Pittuck.

Swinburn, about 50, has lived in Egypt almost 25 years. The Arab News Agency distributes news through the Middle East from the British agency Reuters. Pittuck is a second generation resident of Egypt and speaks fluent Arabic.

Authorities said they were considering whether a military or a civilian court would try the men.

The authorities said Swinburn acknowledged receiving instructions from two diplomats of an unidentified foreign embassy.

The arrests followed by a day the expulsion from Egypt of two British reporters and an American woman correspondent for a London daily, for unannounced reasons.

Mystery Woman Sought As Link in Acid Case

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Dozens of FBI agents and city detectives have scoured part of the lower east side in a hunt for a mystery woman "closely associated" with a suspect in the acid-blinding of columnist Victor Riesel.

The searchers, carrying walkie-talkie radios and other special equipment, tramped block-by-block through their assigned territory yesterday afternoon and last night.

Authorities declined to say whether the searchers had any luck finding the woman or picking up her trail.

Police are trying to track down the shadowy underworld power who ordered the attack on Riesel.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said the attack and the gangland execution of the hoodlum who allegedly flung the acid were ordered by the same person.

"We expect to crack this case this week," he added.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Rose D'Argenio, 42, convicted of contempt of court for refusing to talk to a federal Grand Jury probing the Riesel case, reversed herself and answered the jury's questions.

Authorities refused to disclose what she had to say. But she was released from serving a six-month jail sentence for contempt.

In another angle to the case, police sought to identify the body of a man found slain in gangster style near Westbury, Long Island. He had a bullet hole in his head and his hands were sawed off.

Police were trying to determine if it was the body of Louis Musto, 24, a hijacker who was reportedly a pal of Abraham Telvi, the dead thug said to have thrown the acid that blinded Riesel.

Musto had tattoos on both hands, police said. On the left was a Leopard, snake, cross and the legend "Memory of Dad, April 11, 1953." Low on the right forearm were two hearts and a tree and the words "Love Mother 1940."

Musto was convicted in absentia early this month on a charge of possessing $30,000 in stolen furs.

Musto's co-defendants, Richard Langone, 33, and Jame Rocereto, 25, were found dead with their heads bashed in on the lower East Side July 28.

The same day, Telvi was found shot to death a few blocks away.

The FBI theory is that Telvi was "too hot" because some of the acid splashed on his own face and marked him. The underworld therefore wiped him out, the agents believe.

Riesel has maintained from the time of the attack last April that it was motivated by his exposures of gangsterism and racketeering in some labor unions.

Russia Is Scored for Suez Act

Says Only Soviet Barred Peace Plan

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia has been waging a propaganda campaign to make it extremely difficult for Egyptian President Nasser to negotiate a satisfactory settlement of the Suez Canal crisis.

Dulles told a news conference that Nasser's agreement today to receive a committee from the recent London Conference to talk about the Suez problem constitutes a contribution toward a peaceful solution.

THE SOVIET UNION, Dulles said, stood out alone among the 22 nations which attended the London Suez Conference earlier this month as a country which was not trying to find a way to reach a peaceful solution.

Eighteen of the 22 nations which attended the London meeting proposed that an international board run the 103-mile canal. A minority plan, submitted by India at the conference and supported by the Soviet Union, Ceylon and Indonesia, would leave the canal under Egyptian control and provide an international board with advisory powers only.

DULLES SAID that on the very morning, he was trying to explain a U. S. proposal for peaceful settlement to Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov in London Soviet propaganda was carrying on a vicious campaign among the Arabs against a settlement between Nasser and the West.

The Soviets argued that the plan advocated by Dulles — and finally accepted as the majority plan at the conference — was simply a device for reimposing colonialism on Egypt.

Dulles returned from the conference last Saturday and expected to report to President Eisenhower here tomorrow. He previously talked by telephone with the President, who has been vacationing in California.

THE CANAL ISSUE dominated Dulles' first news conference since mid-July. Two other subjects of general interest came up with these results:

1. Dulles said Red China has sent a message here through British diplomats admitting that an airplane was shot down last Thursday in the area south of Shanghai but claiming it was a Chinese Nationalist plane. A U. S. Navy patrol plane disappeared in that area at that time and the United States asked the British to look into the matter.

2. Dulles said he reminded Japanese Foreign Minister Shigemitsu in London of a provision in Japan's peace treaty which states that if another government obtains more favorable terms of peace settlement from Japan than the first treaty af-

Ashokan Scouts Are Back From Wilderness Trip

Scouts and Explorers of Troop 63 from Ashokan returned Sunday from a wilderness canoe trip which started at Long Lake, extended down the Raquette river and ended at Tupper Lake in the Adirondacks.

Under the leadership of Scoutmaster Alva Buley, Jr., Explorers Fred Aalto, David Friedman, Floyd Glass, and Scouts Edwin Bundy, Andrew Peck, Robert Peck and Ronald Wendt completed the requirements for the "50 miler" recognition which in addition to the 50 miles of canoeing or hiking of wilderness trails, specified ten hours of group conservation work en route.

The weather was pleasant though cool and deer and small animals were frequently seen. A portage of one and a half miles tested the packing skills of the scouts when all equipment and canoes had to be carried around a series of waterfalls and rapids.

Close Texas Vote Being Rechecked

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28 (AP)—Texas county Democratic chairmen today canvassed the vote from Saturday's tight gubernatorial runoff primary with supporters of both U. S. Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough looking over their shoulders in key counties.

COMPLETE, unofficial figures to the Texas Election Bureau last night gave Daniel 698,125 votes and Yarborough 694,578—a lead of 3,547 for Daniels, Daniel's percentage was 50.12.

Robert Johnson, head of the bureau, said no further report would be made until Saturday unless corrections in county figures should change the lead. He said that was extremely unlikely.

WORKERS OF both candidates called supporters in key counties and asked them to be present to watch the canvass of the vote. The Election Bureau, an unofficial agency organized by news media, also planned to keep a sharp eye on the county-by-county canvass.

Yarborough said yesterday in a statement that "our independent cneck . . . found many sizeable errors. And we believe many more will be found when the vote is canvassed by the various county executive committees on Tuesday morning . . ." Yarborough said he was still "confident I've been elected governor."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—The stock market followed an aimless course in light trading in the early afternoon today.

Prices were about evenly mixed. Changes were narrow, except for a handful of specialties that moved around a point in either direction.

Investors continued their wait-and-see attitude. Volume was estimated at around 1,400,000 shares for the day. This would be under yesterday's 1,420,000 shares, which equalled the year's record low set on Feb. 13.

Slow sessions are traditional prior to the three-day Labor Day weekend.

Half Century

Emmerton, Va. (AP)—Packaged groceries have a strong supporter in Mrs. Gertie Hanks, who has tended a store here for more than 50 years. She says she can wait on her customers far faster than in the days when every store handled fat back and molasses in bulk. "Miss Gertie" doesn't know anything about the 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. hours some stores observe, however. She arises at 3 a. m., cooks breakfast, cleans her apartment above the store and then opens for business. There are usually a few early arrivals and she weeds her garden after they depart and before other folks get up. Closing time? It is always sundown.

DEFENDANT ENCLOSED—Court officials secure James Merkouris to his chair inside a special soundproofed booth from which he will watch and hear the remainder of his sanity hearing in Los Angeles. Last week the judge ordered him bound and gagged after outbursts against the prosecutor. However, Merkouris managed to continue his shouting after the gag slipped. The booth was installed over the weekend in preparation for resumption of the hearing Aug. 27. The hearing, which is preliminary to his trial on murder charges, was interrupted again Aug. 27 when Merkouris managed to break up some of the furniture in the booth. (AP Wirephoto)

Blast Kills Five

Montreal, Aug. 28 (AP)—An explosion apparently caused by escaping gas wrecked a 16-family apartment house in a Montreal suburb today. First reports said from 5 to 8 persons were killed and 15 injured. A spokesman for the Quebec province-owned utility company said the blast appeared to have been caused by gas which escaped after a construction crew accidentally cut a gas main in suburban Ville La Salle. Emergency crews were dispatched to the scene to stop the flow of burning gas from the main.

Four Are Killed In Florida When Plane Hits Homes

Sanford, Fla., Aug. 28 (AP) — Four persons including a 3-year-old child died when a two-engine Navy attack bomber plowed into two houses three blocks from a landing field yesterday.

Sue Lowe, the child, was burned to death on the porch of the wrecked home where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lowe. The Lowes and their son, David, 4, were hospitalized with severe burns.

THE THREE-MAN crew of the bomber also died in the crash and fire that followed.

The Navy identified them as the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Ozni Donald Hall, 34, of Sanford; Lt. (J. G.) Gerald Michael O'Hara, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. O'Hara of Somerville, Mass. and William Valentine Swigonski, 35, aviation electronics technician, first class, of Sanford.

The plane first demolished the home of W. B. Brown, a former Navy chief petty officer, then caromed into the Lowe home. Only a portion of the fire-scarred second house was left standing.

BROWN SAID he went to the back door of his home when he heard the plane apparently in trouble. When it struck he was blown into the carport. He was uninjured.

Sue and her brother David had been playing next door a few minutes before the plane hit in the subdivision south of Sanford and less than 20 miles north of Orlando in central Florida.

Navy Flier's Body Being Sent Home, Families Coming

Tokyo, Aug. 28 (AP)—The body of a U. S. Navy flier, killed when a Navy patrol plane was shot down off Red China's coast last Thursday, was to be flown home tonight.

His widow and three small sons, along with the wives and 10 children of five other crew members still listed as missing, were to follow in a later plane early Wednesday morning.

U. S. Navy officials said the body of Aviation Electronics Technician Albert P. Mattin of Delta, Ohio, would leave Tokyo sometime tonight aboard a special military transport plane.

Of the 16 men aboard the P4M Mercator, only Mattin's fate is definitely known. His body and bits of wreckage were found a day later in the Pacific about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. The other 15 are listed as missing.

Mr. Mattin, who is expecting another child this fall, and the other wives and children were scheduled to leave in a second military transport plane at 3:30 a. m. Wednesday (1:30 p. m. EST Tuesday).

The planes' routes and arrival times in the United States were not immediately available.

The other families returning are Mrs. Francis A. Flood Jr., Chevy Chase, Md., and daughter Nancy, 11 months; Mrs. Milton Hutchinson, Cumberland, R. I., and Stephen 10, Don 6, and Janet 2; Mrs. James W. Ponsford, Long Beach, Calif., and James 12 and Edward 10; Mrs. Carl Messinger, Laredo, Mo., and Michael 8, twins Larry and Barry 6, Emily 2; and James B. Deane, Grand Rapids, Mich., no children.

Mrs. Mattin's three sons are Michael 6, Stephen 3, and Patrick 2.

Pulling in Same Direction

Neither Party's Program Is Different From the Other's

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—An era ended and another began in 1932. Now, 24 years later, the two Presidential candidates of 1956, President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson, see a brand new era ahead.

BUT THERE IS a difference between the way the Democrats and Republicans approached the new era in 1932 and the way Eisenhower and Stevenson look forward to the years immediately ahead.

In 1932 the Republicans drowning in the great depression, lacked fresh ideas. Their confusion was reflected in their long, rambling timid and unimaginative program. That same year the Democratic platform was short and direct. It promised action of a new kind on many fronts.

The Democrats won. They changed the course of American life and established definitely the principle of government responsibility for the general welfare.

President Herbert Hoover, running for re-election against Franklin D. Roosevelt, said: "This campaign is more than a contest between two men. It is more than a contest between parties. It is a contest between two philosophies of government.

"Our opponents . . . are proposing changes and so-called new ideas which would destroy the very foundations of our American system . . ."

Roosevelt saw it otherwise. Accepting the Democratic nomination, he said: "I pledge you, I pledge myself to a new deal for the American people." And later: "The country needs, and unless I mistake its temper, the country demands, bold, persistent experimentation."

THERE FOLLOWED under Roosevelt the long list of new deal programs and adjustments in American living: social security, the Wagner Act, the 40-hour week, controls over business, the Reciprocal Trade Law.

Much that seemed radical in these programs at the time—or was called radical—actually had roots in the federal or state programs enacted into law in related fields years before. And the New Deal social programs, instead of being new, were only bringing the United States abreast of the advanced European countries.

FOR YEARS afterward Republicans fought, in whole or piecemeal, the New Deal and later the "Fair Deal" which was an extension of it. In time they recognized—but not too clearly until Eisenhower became President—that the New and Fair Deals were simply bringing the United States up to date and laying the basic foundations for the future.

Under Eisenhower the Republicans adopted basic programs of both the New and Fair Deals and even extended them. Thus both parties are abreast of each other and in that sense an era has ended, for the New Deal and Fair Deal programs have become a broad foundation for the future.

NEITHER PARTY is offering now—as Roosevelt did in 1932—broad new fields of experimentation. They are accepting what has been done in the past and proposing to extend it. Neither party's program this year offers anything which essentially is different from the other's.

So at mid-century both parties, standing on the broad base already laid, are pulling in the same direction.

Auto Runs Like Train Over D&H

Albany, Aug. 28—A 1956 automobile left the street, straddled the D & H track this morning, and rode the rails for 65 miles. On board was a trainman who lowered the hydraulic train wheels of this 1956 Chrysler Imperial automobile.

The Delaware and Hudson's newest piece of modernized railway equipment carried rail executives and Chamber of Commerce officials on a 65-mile jaunt over the proposed route of a rail industry tour scheduled for September 18.

The conductor and passengers of this special "train" completed inspection of the route of the September rail industry tour sponsored by the Railroad Community Committee of the Capital District in cooperation with the Troy Chamber of Commerce.

According to rail spokesman Kenneth C. Lewis, the rail industry tour will provide an opportunity for members of Chambers of Commerce and business and professional organizations of the area to view industrial opportunities and have an intimate look at the backyards of industry along the upper Hudson river.

The "train" ended its run, checked in with the rail signal tower at Albany, raised its special flanged wheels, and drove its passengers down the highway toward home.

Tomorrow the special wheeled automobile returns to service as an all-purpose inspection car for road and rails.

Autopsies Ordered

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Autopsies were ordered today in the investigation of the deaths of a Bronx man and his wife. The couple, William Krieger, 56, and his wife, Belle, 55, were found dead last night in their apartment at 1160 Evergreen avenue. Authorities said Mrs. Krieger, dead at least two days, had marks on her neck. Her husband apparently died yesterday.

Democrat Still Undecided; Fund Probe Is Started

Chicago, Aug. 28 (AP)—Herbert C. Paschen, still undecided whether to withdraw as Democratic nominee for governor, is to appear before the Cook County Grand Jury today to explain a controversial $29,000 employes fund in the Cook County Treasurer's Office, which he heads.

TWO INVESTIGATORS for the U. S. Senate Banking and Currency Committee, meanwhile announced they also plan to question the 61-year-old politician about the employes fund solicited from bankers.

Robert A. Wallace, committee staff director, and committee counsel Matthew Hale, said they are seeking to determine if National banks violated federal law by contributing to campaign funds.

Paschen said he ordered money in the fund returned to contributors. He has fired two aides who administered the fund.

Disclosure of the fund has brought pressure from state Democratic leader for Paschen to quit his race for governor. The nominee said Sunday he would decide in "the next two days" whether he will remain in the Nov. 6 contest against Republican Gov. William G. Stratton.

AT LEAST ONE Democratic politician said he would gladly finish the race in place of Paschen. Morris B. Sachs, Chicago city treasurer who was defeated for the nomination in the primary, said he was "ready and willing to run."

Paschen alone, as winner of the April primary election, can decide whether to continue in the race or quit. Should he withdraw, the vacancy would be filled only by vote of the full Democratic State Committee.

Four Jurors Needed

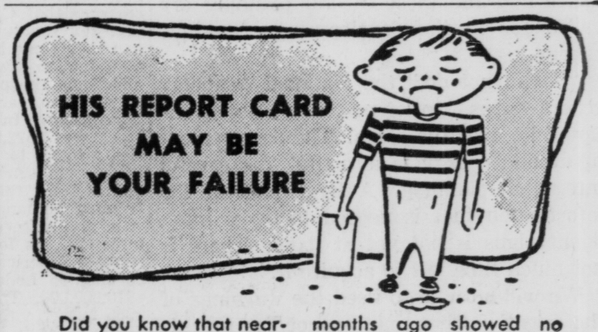

Boston, Aug. 28 (AP)—Only four more jurors remained to be chosen today before the presentation of evidence begins in the Superior Court trial of eight men charged with the $1,218,-211 Brink's robbery. Jurors already selected increased to 10 with the addition of three men out of 106 screened yesterday. The four to be selected include two alternates who will be held in reserve in case any of the jurors become incapacitated before a verdict is returned. Of those examined yesterday, 22 were eliminated by Judge Felix Forte in the preliminary screening, 59 were excused by the court and 22 were challenged by the prosecution without cause.

ATOMIC PLAN NEEDED

Two important reports on atomic radiation have been issued this summer, one in the United States and the other in Great Britain. All of us should know something about them. We should be prepared to use our personal influence with our political representatives to see that the wisdom of the scientists is used at the practical level where atomic energy is released.

One of these reports has been made by the National Academy of Sciences, financed by the Rockefeller Foundation. The other is the work of the British Medical Research Council and is an official government report.

We all are exposed to some atomic radiation all the time. Scientists refer to this as "natural background radiation." In substance, both American and British reports agree that some increase in background radiation is allowable but the margin of safety is so slim that the highest intelligence and the most careful planning are called for in the development of atomic energy.

"It will not do," the National Academy report warns, "to let nuclear plants spring up ad lib over the earth. The development of atomic energy is a matter for careful integrated planning. A large part of the information that is needed to make intelligent plans is not yet at hand. There is not much time left to acquire it."

We will be wise to heed the warnings of the scientists that man cannot live on this planet with developing atomic energy without an international plan and international regulation. Uncontrolled, the mighty atom could bring us serious consequences even without war.

BOOM IN 'EATING OUT'

The "tired little woman" who can take just so much of slaving over a hot stove all day—or maybe it's slaving over a hot bridge table—is in large part responsible for the 17-billion-dollar tab Americans pick up each year for dining out.

We are becoming more and more a nation of "eater outers." The National Restaurant Association reports that 78 million meals are served each day in the nation's restaurants, and that the industry now ranks fourth among all industries in the country.

There is a certain appeal to eating out. Restaurants, like other businesses, have become highly sales conscious. Everything is done in decor, attractiveness of serving and quality of food to entice the customer's dollar. Most of us have a hard time resisting the plea, "Oh, let's eat out tonight."

It's a great rest for Mom and, generally, a treat for the whole family. But make no mistake about it, no chef will ever replace the American housewife as a cook. Over the long haul, most of us would rather eat her pan-fried hamburger than the finest filet mignon in the flossiest restaurant in the world.

BATTLE OF THE BUGS

Fighting the various bugs that eat their way into valuable crops has become a series of big operations. With chemical sprays, hardier types of seed and other techniques devised by research, the battle is pursued every summer.

Planes swoop down over farm areas with great spray guns—a costly but effective procedure. In Florida, roadblocks have been set up and truck cargoes inspected for the dreaded Mediterranean fruit fly. In the South the old problem of the boll weevil plagues the cotton plantations. In the Midwest the corn borer creeps in. In the Northwest, spruce budworms are attacking the fir trees.

The loss to American agriculture due to assorted insects is estimated at about four billion dollars a year. Compared to this, the 17 million dollars spent by the Department of Agriculture for insect control and research on the subject seems a relatively small expenditure.

Without constant vigilance, the bugs that chew, bore, slice and gnaw their way through growing things could become terrifying enemies.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

I was reading a circular of an American-Canadian investment fund which are proliferating like rabbits, when I came across this paragraph relating to the primary objective for the fund:

"To operate in such a way that the shareholders will incur only minimum taxes and the Fund will incur no United States tax liabliity and only relatively small tax liability to Canada and other countries."

It has been suggested to me that there is nothing wrong in thinking up a gimmick to save money on taxes. Of course, there is nothing morally or legally wrong with that, except that when the rest of us have to carry a heavy load because we earn wages, we are not excited about those who are able to shift the load from themselves to us. If a tax is to be socially right, it should be equally collected. If those who possess reservoirs of capital can shift their funds to Canada or Liberia or Panama or wherever and thus avoid paying an equal tax with other citizens, it can only mean that the others have to pay more.

I do not mention the name of this particular fund, first, because I am not advertising it for prospective investors and secondly because there are many such funds and they are all pretty much alike. I have its brochure before me and this paragraph is particularly interesting:

"The Fund intends so to conduct its affairs that it will incur no tax liability to the United States, since it does not intend (1) to engage in trade or business in the United States within the meaning of the United States Internal Revenue Code, (2) to have a permanent establishment in the United States within the meaning of the tax treaty between the United States and Canada or (3) to have any income arising from sources within the United States which would be subject to United States taxes."

The Government of the United States has very little information on the movement of money in and out of the country. A statement prepared by M. Joseph Meehan, Director, Office of Business Economics of the U. S. Department of Commerce, read before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, contained these paragraphs which are a realistic appraisal of the situation:

"Our present sources of information on the acquisition and sale by foreigners of controlling interests in United States companies are incomplete. Withholding-tax records apply only to enterprises paying dividends to foreign residents.

"When purchases or sales are deliberately concealed, we would have no means to discover them. Moreover, even when we know that an enterprise is wholly or partially controlled by foreign interests our questionnaires are not always answered."

Walther Lederer, Chief of the Balance of Payments Division of the Department of Commerce, estimated that the minimum foreign investment in American industry is $11,000,000,000. Chairman Armstrong of the SEC had put the figures at $26,000,000,000. These figures are not divergent; they represent the inclusion of different entities, but not matter what data one studies, the fact emerges that Canada and Switzerland are excellent tax sanctuaries for American money which can then come back into this country in the form of Canadian, Swiss or other national investments and avoid the payment of taxes.

And, so far as anyone knows, it is done legitimately. In 1949, the value of Swiss-owned stock was $522,000,000; that is, American securities owned by Swiss nationals, usually Swiss banks representing anonymous accounts. By the end of 1954, this was increased to $1,353,000,000. It must be much greater now because the past year has witnessed enormous activities in this direction. As for Canada, the Canadian investment in American securities in 1949 amounted, according to Lederer, to $480,000,000; in 1954, to $910,000,000. These figures appear very low in 1956 but give the general trend sufficiently to indicate what it is.

Surely, there can be no objection to the investment of foreign funds in American industry if we know who owns the funds. The principal objection is to anonymous ownership, particularly of defense plants which could be a peril to the country. The Swiss investment is totally anonymous and could even represent foreign governments. The Canadian investment often represents American money operating through Canada to evade American taxes.

All this calls for getting at the facts, which are very difficult to obtain.

BRAIN SURGERY

We were discussing yesterday about the beginning of neurosurgery (operation on nerves) in the treatment of various mental and emotional conditions. Today we will mention some of the more common procedures that are being done.

One is bilateral (both sides) lobotomy which is cutting of the white matter in the frontal lobes of the brain. This has been used almost exclusively at the University of Toronto since the lobotomy project was started in 1948 by Drs. K. G. McKenzie and E. H. Botterell.

Unilateral (one-sided) lobotomy is done occasionally, usually on the right side. This procedure is of particular value for patients with unbearable pain.

Cortical undercutting is the cutting of certain sections of the brain just behind its lining. These areas are considered to have an important influence on the self-controlling nervous system.

Topectomy, removal of a particular part of the frontal lobe lining, is done under direct vision.

Thalamotomy is a procedure by which electrodes are planted in the mass of grey matter at the base of the brain and stimulating currents then passed through these electrodes. This procedure relieves pain in patients with cancer and improves some psychotic (disease of the mind) states.

There are many others but they are too technical to deal with. As previously noted, Moniz believed that patients with mental disorders were dominated by diseased ideas which were fixed by certain groupings of the cells in the frontal lining of the brain. Consequently, he felt that good results could be obtained by destroying these morbid groupings. It was felt that by destroying the connections (nerves) between the thalamus (mass of grey matter at the base of the brain) and the frontal lining (cortex) of the brain relieved the diseased self-awareness and introspection (looking inward) and released the individual's capacity for socially acceptable behavior.

We must remember that all chronic and unbearable psychiatric problems are not suitable for neurosurgical treatment. The selection of patients for neurosurgery should be made by a psychiatrist who is familiar with the various procedures and who has considered critically the treatment values in different types of psychiatric disorders. Operation should be advised in properly selected cases only after all other methods of treatment have been given a good trial.

Before operation, the physician must explain to the patient, where possible, and the family, that neurosurgery (1) may fail to relieve the condition, (2) may cause complications such as epileptic attacks or personality changes, and (3) requires an important period of rehabilitation, with help from psychiatrists, social workers, and other agencies, and from the patient's own family and associates before the greatest benefits will become apparent.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Bob Loftus of National Association of Home Builders—who thought up the idea of inviting a group of Russian housing officials to make a tour of the U. S. earlier this year—has been telling about the return visit which an American NAHB group made in Russia.

The Americans spent nearly six weeks climbing up and down ladders, trudging through muddy construction sites, eating 12-dish breakfasts with more substantial luncheons and dinners, and trying to find out what made the place tick.

The most memorable experience of all, says Loftus, happened in Leningrad on one of the "White Nights." This is the short midsummer season when the sun doesn't go down until 1 a. m. and rises again at 3 a. m. In between there is a sort of twilight in which you can read a newspaper.

"WE HAD JUST FINISHED one of those long Russian banquets," Loftus relates. "Four of us Americans went along for a stroll along the Neva River embankment. As we walked along, admiring the view of Fortress Peter and Paul across the river, we came upon a group of 20 boys and girls in their teens, sitting on the embankment wall and singing folk songs.

"Naturally we stopped to listen. And naturally it took them 10 seconds to see that we were Americans.

"From then you'd think we were visiting potentates. They gave us their places on the wall and for two solid hours they serenaded us with the most beautiful-happy-sad music I ever heard.

"Listening to those soft young voices and seeing the obvious friendliness in their faces, you couldn't help feeling that this cold war business was a pretty top-level Moscow affair that just hadn't reached these kids.

"Just as the sun rose, the youngsters walked us back to our hotel, shook hands solemnly and asked us to meet them on the river bank the next night.

"THE WORD MUST HAVE gotten over Leningrad," Loftus continues, "for when we arrived on the embankment at midnight, 50 or 60 young people were waiting for us. And after the singing began, the crowd grew to 300 or more.

"At every break in the music, someone in the crowd would call out, 'Tell the American people we haven't forgotten what they did for us during the war.' Or 'Please tell the American people we want peace,' and more of the same.

"After the kids had been singing about a half-hour, six sailors from the Leningrad fleet pushed into the crowd, one of them with a beat-up accordion. They took over.

"They moved the whole show out into the middle of the plaza adjoining the embankment, formed a big ring with the Americans in the place of honor, and put on a performance of acrobatic dancing, pantomime comedy and songs that were, I suppose, the kind all sailors sing on shore leave.

"THE YOUNGSTERS who had started the whole thing were a little bit put out by the competition, but they joined in too. Apparently nobody ever goes to bed during White Nights. Traffic on the plaza was completely blocked off but nobody cared—including the police who showed up when the crowd formed.

"The party started to break up around 2:30 a. m., but everybody wanted to walk back to our hotel with us, so we didn't make much progress. At every street corner, the sailors wanted to resume the concert.

"They went through 'St. Louis Blues,' 'Melancholy Baby,' a couple of mambo numbers and finally topped it off with 'Auld Lang Syne,' done in Russian with some off-key American voices joining in. That really broke it up.

"We somehow got into our hotel while the entire crowd lined up on the sidewalk and sang a final chorus which, our interpreters told us, was 'Goodnight and Goodby.'"

Free Samples

Corvallis, Ore. (AP) — Oregon State College students got a free sampling of sherbet and came up with this observation: Those that are sweet and smooth are best. Roy Stein, superintendent of the Oregon State College dairy products laboratory said the sherbet samples were made sweet by addition of sugar, then were whipped into a one-fourth greater volume. This meant more tiny air cells for a smoother, sweeter taste, he said. What's more, weight-watchers learned that they actually were getting fewer calories per serving because of the increased volume of air.

New Weapon

Berlin, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut Light & Power Co., has added a weapon resembling a sawed-off shotgun to the equipment of its linemen. It's not to repel wild beasts, few of which are found in Connecticut's hinterland anyway, but to fire a half-pound brass rod attached to 550 feet of nylon line. The company said it learned the value of the line throwing device during the 1955 Connecticut floods when it was used to get lines across streams at spots where bridges had been washed out.

Today in National Affairs

AFL-CIO Is Expected to Back Democrats at Election Polls

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 28—The major development in national politics today is related to the meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO which has been struggling lately with the question of whether to "indorse" Adlai Stevenson or to remain "neutral" in the Presidential contest. At no time has it been considered feasible to approve the record of the Republican administration, as this would meet with opposition from various union leaders.

Business men generally, who have looked askance at the gradual turn of the Eisenhower administration toward the labor side, will heave a sigh of relief if the executive council of the AFL-CIO shows its preference for the Democratic ticket, because it will be clear proof to them—and they hope proof to Ike—that it doesn't pay any dividends at all to try to play ball with union labor in the realm of politics.

THERE HAS BEEN a genuine attempt on the part of the Eisenhower administration to take an objective view toward labor and management and to steer a course in the middle. This however, hasn't satisfied the labor leaders, who want the Administration to come all the way and become a partisan of the unions just as FDR and Harry Truman did. There has been much nervousness among management men recently because of the fear that the present Administration would for political reasons, seek to play the same kind of game that the recent Democratic administrations did.

If, however, it becomes apparent that even the partiality shown on many issues toward the labor union side by the Eisenhower administration has not been appreciated and, in fact, that there is an open avowal of bias by the labor leaders in favor of the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, the talk will be that the Administration has wasted its time and energies and had better take the business side of the argument hereafter.

Labor leaders in the old days steered a neutral course. The late Samuel Gompers, head of the AFL, expressed his own preference and leanings but was careful never to commit his big labor organization to any political party. In the Congressional races, there often were as many Republicans as Democrats supported by the local labor organizations. Today, the tendency of the national unions is to become a part of the national compaign and to collect money from union men for political organizations directly affiliated with the labor union movement.

ALTHOUGH THE Smith-Connally law passed during the last war, and subsequently, the Taft-Hartley act made it unlawful for labor unions to contribute money to political campaigns for Federal offices—putting the unions on the same footing with corporations which for years had been prevented from financing political candidates—there have been ways developed to circumvent the purposes of the law. Thus, labor unions permit collectors to go through the factories to obtain supposedly voluntary contributions from workers. There have been charges, too, in Congress that money collected originally for dues or for union assessments has been used for political purposes.

There is no question about the active participation of what are called "political action committees" comprising officials or staff employees of the major labor organizations, and in recent years they have spent their time and money primarily to try to elect Democratic candidates for Congress and for the Presidency. Official records have been published showing that many prominent members of the Senate and House had many thousands of dollars spent in their behalf by labor unions. If corporations or business organizations had contrived to spend equal sums, there would have been quite a hue and cry about it.

THERE ISN'T any law to prevent the executive council of the AFL-CIO from indorsing any Presidential or Congressional candidates and making those facts known to its members. The only legal problem that arises is in connection with financial contributions.

While it is well known that an "indorsement" means a good deal politically to various candidates for Congress, it is open to question what value it has to a Presidential candidate. Most labor union members vote as do other citizens—on the paramont issues—and divide as other folks do. But the promise of support or the threat of its withdrawal often influences legislative action and has affected executive action, too, in the past.

The Eisenhower administration has adopted the kind of course that ordinarily would mean an expression of neutrality by any labor council. But the ardent partianship of so many labor leaders and their direct connection with the Democratic party make it doubtful whether they now will refrain from active campaigning in behalf of the Democratic Presidential ticket, no matter how vaguely worded the pronouncement this week from the executive council of the nation's biggest labor organization.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Francisco, Aug. 27 — Harry Lundeberg, with his crumpled nose, his raw-boned six-feet three, his brandishing, tattooed forearms and his jolting manner of speech, salted with sunzas, is the incarnation of Popeye, the sailor.

He must have eaten a lot of spinach in his 57 years, for to this day his wide, Scandinavian mug glows like a bulb at the recollection of them beefs with Harry Bridges' then Communist longshoremen and Joe Curran's then Communist sailors in one of which a Caribbean sailor stuck a knife in his back and left it there with the handle twitching ,and another Red shattered his jaw with a short length of pipe.

You don't feel the pain till the fight is over so "I spit out three teeth and dumped a couple of more sunzas before I get to the doctor and he says there is hardly any salvage so he had to cut my throat to reach up and put the chips and pieces together with his fingers and splice them with wire."

Mr. Lundberg is a distinguished direct-actionist. When you go to a beef, you don't go to play cards. You go to dump them sunzas or they dump you because that is the name of the game.

Popeye had invited me to his grand headquarters on Harrison street, a weird heap of the ugly architectural affectations of the recent experimental era.

His grand union is the Seafarers' International Union of North America, the mother, so to speak, of a litter of regional subsidiaries which have autonomy in their geographical and professional jurisdictions. He has his own subsidiary here under the same roof with the international. It is the Sailors' Union of the Pacific.

There is also an Atlantic and Gulf subsidiary with headquarters in New York, set up for the purpose of dumping Joe Curran and his National Maritime Union into the sea because the N. M. U. was infiltrated with communist supporters. It was created by the Labor Relations Board under Roosevelt to destroy the International Seamen's Union of America, of the A. F. of L., one of the oldest unions in the country.

Later the A. F. of L. dissolved the I. S. U. and chartered Lundeberg's outfit. He has another regional subsidiary on the Oregon-Washington coast, another in Canada and another in Los Angeles. He also has a freshwater jurisdiction on the Great Lakes. Deep-water sailors call them guys pike-pole navigators. And he has fishermen's locals in the tuna ports of southern California and Boston.

He does not impose on your intelligence to roll his eyes and vow that all these are pure. He does not try to police their morals and he admits without perceptible horror that the New York outfit, under Paul Hall, got into some beefs with the cops and District Attorney Hogan because some of the brothers got embroiled in civil commotion some years ago, first in Wall street and again in lending assistance to some of Dave Dubinsky's button-hole makers.

Them clerical workers and button-hole makers are not very good in a beef so the New York white-caps went to their aid. Mr. Lundeberg does not know whether they were paid and he is not inquiring. What difference would it make?

In fact, only recently a couple of his own boys were convicted of assault and conspiracy in San Diego where they reported to Max Osslo, of the Butchers' Union, under instructions from Popeye to walk around with him and keep him company during a labor disturbance with the retail clerks concerning jurisdiction over jobs in retail food stores.

A lot of strange characters were using abusive language and menacing gestures toward brother Osslo, so Popeye called in two sailors from his hiring hall and asked them if they would care to take part in a beef. But they did not hurt anybody bad.

One of the strange characters, a professional wrestler, six foot four, weight 280, got dumped but that is the name of the game, and he did not have to go to the hospital. What are them Sunzas beefing about, anyway? Isn't that the name of the game?

Tricky Math

St. Louis (AP)—The Romans—builders of fine roads, graceful buildings and lasting empires—did their math in a tricky manner. A description of what they considered mathematical shortcuts has been found among the 600,000 microfilm copies of Vatican library manuscripts at St. Louis University here. For example, one shortcut involved multiplying VIII (8) by VI (6). Doing it the Roman way, you take the difference between 10 and the multiplier (6) and subtract it from the number to be multiplied (8) leaving 4. This difference was multiplied by 10, giving 40. Next, the "differentia" of both the multiplier and the multiplicant were found. This gives you the numbers 4 and 2, which if multiplied, become 8. Add the 8 to the 40 and the answer: 48 or XLVIII.

Carolina Fight Starts Again in Democratic Ranks

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 28 (AP)—A South Carolina political battle that is fast becoming traditional in election years, the struggle between Democratic party regulars and "independents," blazed up again today.

Hardly had the state Democratic convention adjourned yesterday on what could be interpreted as a note of unity, than a "South Carolinians for independent electors" was brought hastily into existence.

Many of the organization's members had just left the party convention where they and others were unsuccessful in attempts to give state Democrats the right to vote as they please without damaging their party standing.

THE CONVENTION decided to return officially to the folds of the national Democratic party for the first time in 16 years.

After two close votes on the independent slate issue, a majority of the delegates shouted approval to a resolution placing the national Democratic ticket on the state party's November ballot.

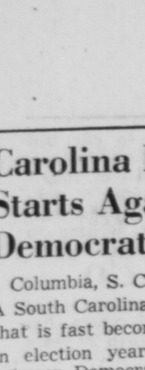

The action came despite warnings that a "gag rule" on voting in the election "will split the state Democratic party so badly that it will never heal."

While the state Democratic executive committee announced the selection of eight electors pledged to national Democratic candidates Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the newly-formed opposition group mapped plans for its drive for an independent slate of electors.

The group said in its statement that it was opposed to both the Republican and Democratic platforms on sections "relating to states rights and constitutional government."

THE STATEMENT added the independents were strongly against "any platform plank which would limit free debate in the U. S. Senate; any endorsement of the U. S. Supreme Court decisions relating to segregation of the races; and any attempt to extend the jurisdiction of the federal courts."

Changes in Your Social Security

In his last article George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston, N. Y. Social Security Office, told of self-employed lawyers, dentist, and other professional people now covered by social security. Under the 1956 amendments to the law, their earnings started to count towards old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families as of January 1, 1956. Naturally, they want to know how long it will take them to become insured under the law.

TO BECOME insured under social security a person must have been in work covered by the law for a specified length of time. The amount of work required is measured in "quarters of coverage" which, in a general way, corresponds with a calendar quarter of work. A self-employed person gets 4 quarters of coverage for a year in which he has $400 or more in net earnings from self-employment. The usual requirements for becoming insured are one quarter of coverage out of every two calendar quarters elapsing after 1950, provided there are at least six quarters of coverage. Under the amended law, a person who works continuously after 1955 can become insured with fewer quarters of coverage. This change in the law permits self-employed professionals and others brought under social security as of the beginning of this year to disregard their years of non-coverage in acquring an insured status under social security.

FOR EXAMPLE, Dr. Jones, a self-employed dentist, is now age 63. He had never been in work covered by social security before January 1, 1956. Dr. Jones will reach 65 in 1958—two years after his self-employment first became covered under the amended law. If his birthday is before April first, he will need to have a quarter of coverage in each of the 8 quarters elapsing after 1955 and up to the quarter in which he reaches 65. If all these quarters are quarters of coverage he will be insured for old-age benefits if he elects to retire at that time.

If Dr. Jones' birthday occurs in the second calendar quarter of the year, he will need 9 quarters of coverage before then; if he reaches 65 in the 3rd quarter of 1958, he will need 10 quarters of coverage before that time. If his birthday is after the end of September, 11 quarters of coverage up to that time will be required.

FOR DEATH benefit purposes, however, Dr. Jones would be insured as early as April 1957 if all 6 of the quarters elapsing after 1955 and through the second quarter of 1957 are quarters of coverage. He would not then be insured for retirement benefits, as he would not yet be 65, but if he should die at that time, survivors payments could be made to certain of his dependents, as he would have met the minimum requirement of six quarters of coverage.

Ordinarily, benefit amounts are based on a person's average earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the law after 1950. If all the time elapsing after 1950 were used in figuring this average, self-employed professionals newly brought under social security would have 5 years in which these earnings were not covered and would count against them. The amended law permits the dropping of these five years.

A SELF-EMPLOYED dentist, lawyer, or any other person whose work was first covered by social security this year, will not have his average earnings reduced when he qualifies for benefits because his work was not covered in the years 1951 through 1955.

In these articles, I have frequently mentioned age 65 as the earliest age at which a person can qualify for old-age payments. This has been true since beginning of social security insurance payments. It still holds for men. The recent amendments, however, provide for the payment of benefits to women beginning at age 62. In my next article I shall explain how women—retired insured workers and wives and widows or mothers of retired or deceased insured workers—can start getting benefit payments at age 62. We will send booklets on request. The Kingston, N. Y. District Office of the Social Security Administration is located in the Central Post Office Bldg., Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. Telephone 7307.

Today's hand, used in a contest in England, illustrates a principle of play that few recognize at the table. When a ruff is dangerous in one suit, look for a way to transfer it to a safer suit.

West opens the king of diamonds, and South wins with the ace. It seems at first glance that South must establish his clubs by ruffing, and that he must eventually give up a heart trick. Appearances are, however, deceptive.

South should begin by cashing the top clubs, and he should next ruff a low club with dummy's jack of trumps. If the missing clubs break 3-3, South can continue by drawing trumps and can eventually give up a heart trick.

When East fails to follow suit on the third round of clubs, South must realize that his next club may very well be overruffed. If South gets back to his hand and ruffs another club in the dummy, East will overruff, and South will eventually lose a heart trick as well.

South's correct play is to return to his hand with the ace of hearts and lead another club. Instead of ruffing in the dummy, however, declarer must discard the remaining heart from the dummy!

Now nothing can prevent South from ruffing his losing heart in the dummy. He gives up a club trick but gets back a heart trick in exchange.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Even way back in 1918 folks were beginning to talk about the passing of the Hudson river steamers, according to the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Friday, August 9, 1918.

It seems the August issue of the "Gas Logic" of that year had a write-up on the old steamers. They first start with: "Today (meaning 1918) when our Hudson river boats are vertiable swift moving palaces built and appointed on a scale of magnificence undreamed of in the old days. Their going or coming causes scarcely a ripple on the smooth surface of New York's existence. Noiselessly, almost as if by magic, they glide along the Hudson shores . . . Few see them depart or give them more than a passing glance or thought."

Then he goes back a half a century (about 1865) or so ago, when the Daniel Drew or the Chauncey Vibbard pulled out into mid-stream, thousands turned out to do her homage and watch her out of sight. The boat's progress northward to Albany was a continuous march of triumph.

To the residents of the Hudson valley who greeted her with fluttering handkerchiefs and shouts of Godspeed, her passage was the event of the day. As one historian of the river truly says, the people "knowing just when to expect the boats, set their clocks, said their prayers and went to bed by them."

I still remember the whistle of the Mary Powell when she made her way into the Rondout creek. That too meant it was time to go in the house or for many to go to bed. The Mary Powell whistle was a very important event in our daily lives. I was too small to remember too much but folks still talk about it.

Then the author came back to 1918 once more and wrote: "No more popular steamboat ever plowed the blue water of the Hudson or any other body of fresh water, for that matter, than the Mary Powell. For many years she bore the undisputed and proud title, 'Queen of the Hudson,' and even today (1918) in her 58th year she still retains many of her queenly qualities of grace and beauty and speed."

Another old-timer of great interest, far older than the Mary Powell, is the Norwich, which is still doing duty on the Hudson in Rondout after 82 years of service. Originally a passenger boat, she has since about the middle of the last century been used as a tow boat, and every spring, for many years, broke a clear path through the river ice, thus acquiring the title of "Ice King."

About ten years ago (around 1908) she sank after a collision, (wrote the author) and the president of the company that owned her decided that it would be too costly to raise her. The president's wife, however, had a different idea and besides was a woman of decision and sentiment. "Samuel," she demanded, "do you mean to say that you aren't going to raise the Norwich? Why, that boat made your fortune for you. By all means, raise her."

And the Norwich was raised and proudly played an important part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration the coming year. She lived to be the oldest steamboat in the world. Perhaps that is what we needed around here was a little sentiment, and Samuel's wife which would have saved the Mary Powell, the Skillypot, and perhaps even the Norwich for posterity and formed them into a Marine Museum such as Mystic, Conn. proudly boasts about in Sunday feature stories and magazines.

The Liberal party, which exists only in New York state, produced 416,711 votes for Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1952 presidential election.

They're afraid of you!

Socialist planners do a lot of shouting about what "the people" want. They say that "the people" want government in the electric power business. Fact is, these planners know darned well that "the people" don't want any such thing. These same planners have spoken out strongly in opposition to letting "the people" vote on this issue. They are afraid of your vote!

P.S. Just last month the citizens of Ogdensburg, upstate from here, voted down a proposal that the city government go into the electric power business. They voted 2,694 to 1,730 in favor of being served by a tax-paying electric utility company.

Salk Credited With Big Cut in State Polio Cases

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—The polio rate in New York state—excluding New York city—has been cut in half so far this year, apparently because of widespread use of the Salk vaccine.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, said it was stil too early to draw any conclusions on the 1956 polio season. But he added that the picture was "definitely encouraging."

As of mid-August, 215 cases of polio had been reported in the 57 counties outside New York city. (The Health Department did not have comparable figures immediately for the city).

THE 215 CASES compared with 460 at the same stage last year, when the Salk anti-pilio vaccination program was getting underway. It compared with an average of 517 cases during the similar period in the years 1951 through 1953, the last years before use of the vaccine.

Of the 215 cases, 105 were paralytic, 93 non-paralytic and 17 had not been diagnosed definitely.

Fifty-one of the afflicted persons had received at least one shot of the Salk vaccine. In that group there were 15 paralytic and 36 non-paralytic cases.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT officials said it was interesting to note that there were far fewer paralytic cases in the 51 that had the vaccine.

The Salk vaccine guards against paralytic forms of the disease. Like other vaccines, it is not effective in all persons. And full benefits are not achieved until three shots are taken.

The department reported that more than 3½ million persons statewide have received at least one shot of the vaccine. About 2½ million of these have had two shots and about 216,000 three shots.

ALL BUT A FEW of the vaccinated are in the categories eligible for public supplies of the vaccine—that is those aged six months through 19 years and pregnant women.

On Aug. 4, the state lifted restrictions that had limited use of vaccine to that group and made adults of all ages eligible for commercially distributed vaccine, administered by their private physicians.

Hilleboe has advised persons aged 20 to 40 to take the shots. The younger adults generally are more susceptible to the disease than those over 40.

The commissioner also has urged that all children be vaccinated as soon as possible.

The Mature Parent

Parents Need Not Present 'United Front' in Discipline

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Dominated by marital friction" was how the reformatory's psychological clinic described Saul's home.

The clinic meant that his parents disagreed—with hate. It meant that Saul's father retorted to his mother's nagging with curses, threats, alcoholic blows. It meant that she nagged on, unchecked. It meant that these married people were so soaked in mutual resentment that they could not disagree over breakfast cereal without splashing each other with bitter reproach.

So the very first thing the clinic did for Saul was to introduce him to two married people who could disagree—with love.

It called them his "cottage parents." Ostensibly in charge of Saul's domestic arrangements, the real work of this pair was the demonstration of happy oppositeness.

If Saul's cottage mother wrongfully accused him of leaving the shower dripping, her husband might say, "She's usually more fair than that. She had some bad news about her only sister last night. That's why who left the shower dripping didn't matter very much to her this morning."

If his cottage father canceled a picnic, his wife might say, "If he's got a quick temper, he always notices things. Maybe if you stop complaining and just go and start mowing that lawn . . ."

These people's staunch appreciation of each other's worth underlying their surface weaknesses was a chief stabilizer in Saul's recovery from delinquent confusion. Where he'd once seen man-woman oppositeness evoking rage, he now saw it evoking understanding and loyalty.

Inevitably, as he grew used to his cottage parents' unruffled acceptance of oppositeness, he began to feel, "Perhaps I too can expect acceptance when I oppose others. Perhaps I can learn to give it when others differ from me."

The "united front" in discipline is as misleading an idea as "sex equality." Just as parents can't afford to extinguish their sexual oppositeness, so we can't afford to lose our individual characters in the war-like alliance of a "united front."

D. H. Lawrence, the English poet, had the final word on the value of loving oppositeness between the parents. "The child's soul was put at peace between them," he wrote. "She was no longer called to uphold with her childish might the broken end of the arch. Her parents now met to the span of the heavens and she, the child, was free to play in the space beneath, between."

Simultaneously 93 Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps planes will fly over the coliseum.

Business sessions start Tuesday and continue through Thursday.

Cotton Exports Higher

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today cotton exports during the 1956-57 marketing year ending Aug. 1, 1957, should more than double the 2,200,000 bales of 1955-56. Higher exports coupled with this year's small crop, the department said, may halt the buildup in the cotton carryover which began in the 1951-52 season. The department said prospects indicate domestic mill consumption will be about the same as last year's 9,200,000 bales.

Making Change

Not long ago the editor needed a little change, so he asked a friend he met on the street to give him change for a dollar bill. Naturally inclined to be accommodating, the friend said, "Surely—if I can. Let me see—I have six coins here, amounting to exactly $1.15. But, for the life of me, I can't change a dollar."

"Well," said the editor, "change this 50-cent piece, if you will, and it will suffice."

"Strange to say," exclaimed the friend, "I can't change even that."

"Then split this quarter for me," said the editor.

"It's funny," replied the embarrased friend, "—believe me or not, I can't change a quarter!"

"How about change for this dime?" asked the editor with a doubtful smile.

"Maybe you think I'm crazy," said the friend, his face turning red, "but I don't have change for a dime."

"All right," said the editor, laughing, "Would you change a nickel for me?"

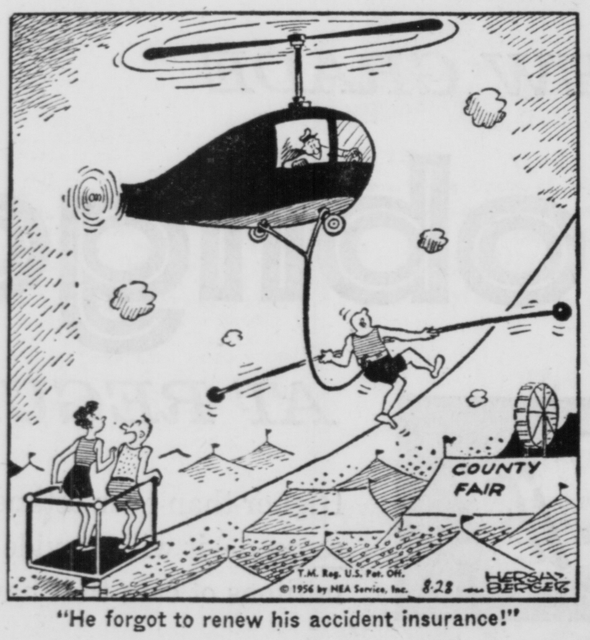

"Certainly, I would change a nickel for you—gladly," answered the good friend, hesitatingly, "but I can't change a nickel!"

Well, what kind of change did the man have? He said he had six coins, amounting to $1.15, but could not make change for either a dollar, a 50-cent piece, a quarter, a dime, or a nickel. What were the six coins?

MAKING CHANGE—the man who has six coins, amounting to $1.15, but could not make change for either a dollar, a 50-cent piece, a quarter, a dime, or a nickel, has a 50-cent piece, a quarter, and four dimes.

Church Caravan Visits Pyramids Of Sun and Moon

In a third letter from Mexico, Miss Helen Kukuk describes how the Kingston "caravan" under the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of the Old Dutch Church paid a fascinating visit to the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon at Teotehuacan near Mexico City.

THE GROUP of young people will return to Kingston this week after a six-week tour of the West and Mexico.

Miss Kukuk, who was appointed scribe for the trip, writes that the Olmec Indians once made human sacrificial offerings to the gods on top of the pyramids. "One can only marvel at the tremendous feat of building that was performed centuries before the time of the Aztecs, as all sizes of stones were carried to the top. Underneath I believe there are many tombs as yet unopened by archeologists."

Miss Kukuk tells how they were poled about the floating gardens of Xochimilco in flower-decked gondolas. The boats, which carry from two to 20 persons, have their names woven in flowers over the front. In other boats whole families were picnicking and in small dugouts women and young children were selling corsages and baskets of flowers, food and water. There are also boats with singing troubadours "ready to serenade you on zither and marimba. . . ."

Miss Kukuk writes that the caravan visited "beautiful Taxco," the silver-mining center high in the mountains. Only a hundred miles from Mexico City, the trip is very beautiful but also tiring, because the road winds continuously over peak after peak, at one point as high as 12,000 feet.

"ZONING LAWS have been enacted establishing the necessity for red tiled roofs and white-washed houses. The cobblestone streets are almost perpendicular and wide enough for one car only. If two cars should meet head-on, one must back to the corner. Along the main street of this beautiful little city each doorway is the entrance to a silver shop, with more designs that you ever imagined possible. Not only jewelry but also dishes, punch bowls, candelabra and many other beautiful pieces, so many that our eyes were aching by the end of the afternoon just from seeing so much silver."

Miss Kukuk describes sightseeing in Mexico City where they visited a cathedral erected in 1587 on the site of an Aztec temple, the National Museum where they saw the famous Aztec calendar stone, believed to be the first calendar although the Aztec actually took the basic ideas from the Mixtec who predated them by almost a century, and Chapultepec castle high on a hill in the center of a large park. The castle was once the home of Maximillian, the last emperor of Mexico, and Carlotta, his shrewdish wife, and is now a museum, Miss Kukuk writes.

The group also visited the basilica of the Virgin of Guadalupe, Mexico's patron saint, to which Mexicans crawl on their knees the length of the sanctuary or up the hill to beg for forgiveness and make their offerings. "I find it still hard to accept the beautiful ornate churches when the people live in such poverty."

Miss Kukuk tells about a visit to University City, founded in 1550, and says the caravan is leaving for Oaxaca, "the favorite spot of those who have been on the trip before."

MODENA NEWS

CD Observance Plans Announced

Modena, Aug. 28—Civil Defense Director Ira Merwin of the Town of Plattekill is requesting the cooperation of the people throughout the town, in arranging for a local observance of National Civil Defense Week, to be observed Sept. 9 through Sept. 15.

President Eisenhower has urged that every community and every citizen in the land develop a preparedness to meet disaster, either enemy caused or natural, and has approved the proposal of the Federal Civil Defense Administration of Washington, D. C., to designate the week of Sept. 9-15 as National Defense Week.

The President has further agreed to appear on television to issue an important message, thus concurring with the belief that through the active promotion of this occasion the American public will realize the urgent significance of Civil Defense.

The observance of this stated time should serve to stimulate understanding and coperation in the development of Civil Defense programs in communities throughout the country, both against possible enemy attack and natural disasters, such as floods and fires.

Therefore, the Administration is devising a program by which they, together with those agencies of the Federal Government to which specific civil defense responsibilities have been delegated, and with state and city civil defense organizations, can inform the American public regarding the use of civil defense as a major instrument insuring National survival under extreme attack or disaster conditions, and as a positive force for peace.

Mr. Merwin has contacted officials of religious, veterans, fraternal, women's, youths organizations, local public officials, and instructors of public schools in observance, and suggested themes, for activities planned in public interest are as follows; Sunday, Sept. 9, "Preparedness in the Nation"; Monday, Sept. 10, Plattekill's Civil Defense Program Today"; Tuesday, Sept. 11, "Preparedness of the Individual"; Wednesday, Sept. 12, "Preparedness in the School"; Thursday, Sept. 13, "Preparedness in the Home and Neighborhood"; Friday, Sept. 14, "Preparedness at Work"; Saturday, Sept. 15, "Preparedness in the Community."

Heads of organizations are urged to arouse interest in their groups, hold meetings with Civil Defense as the program theme, conduct contests, display the American flag, arrange public affairs in the interest, and construct posters with the slogan "Alert today,—Alive tomorrow."

DINNER FOR RETIRING EXECUTIVE

"Our company is giving a large dinner for one of the executives who is retiring in several months. Invitations are to be sent to many business friends with whom he has been associated these many years. We would like also to include their wives. Herein lies our problem: We do not know the home addresses of many of those being invited, and it would be a tremendous task to look them all up. We were wondering if it would be proper to address these invitations to Mr. and Mrs. and send them to the business address?"

It would be quite all right, under the circumstances, to send the invitations to the business address. However, I would suggest using two envelopes as is done with wedding invitations and addressing the outside envelope to Mr. John Jones followed by his business address and then write Mr. and Mrs. Jones on the inside envelope indicating that his wife is invited too.

Announcing Ph.D. Degree

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will receive a Ph.D. degree shortly. We, his family are very proud of him and are anxious to tell our friends of this. However, most of our friends live in other cities and some of them are unaware that my husband has been going to college. Would it be proper to send out announcements of his having received this degree?

Answer: While an admirable situation, it is very unsuitable and open to criticism to send out formal announcements. When you write letters to your friends, you can certainly tell them about it.

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance recently had his name legally changed. Inasmuch as very few of his friends and relatives know of this change as yet, we are wondering how his name should appear on the wedding invitations. Would it be proper to use both names?

Answer: Under the circumstances you describe you can properly put in parenthesis under his name formerly John Jones.

Preview of 1957 Appliances Seen By Store Official

A preview of 1957 models in major home appliances clearly reveals that manufacturers are catering to the needs and tastes of the women of the house, according to John Petty, manager of the appliance department of the local Montgomery Ward and Company.

Mr. Petty has returned from Albany where he attended an advance showing of the company's new appliances. The show was conducted by W. G. Byrnes, regional home appliance merchandiser, and representatives from the merchandising office in Chicago. New appliances presented included stoves, refrigerators, laundry equipment, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios, phonographs and television sets.

Most talked about appliance at the showing, according to Mr. Petty, was an electronic oven which bakes muffins in five minutes, cooks a one pound meat loaf in five minutes, and fries bacon on a paper napkin.

Another new appliance at the show was the world's largest semi-automatic wringer type washer. Mr. Petty explained that the 25½ gallon capacity of the machine meant cleaner washings and fewer loads.

The woman's influence also was seen in the exterior styling of the new television, radio and phonograph sets.

In every line of appliances shown, two features were present to please woman, easy dependable performances plus a well-styled appearance.

Gloria Vanderbilt Weds TV Director

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Millionairess Gloria Vanderbilt, onetime "Poor Little Rich Girl" of Park avenue, was married yesterday to a television director who grew up on the lowest East Side.

Miss Vanderbilt and Sidney Lumet, both, 32, were married in a surprise ceremony. It was her third marriage, his second.

She was previously married to Hollywood agent Pat DeCicco and white-haired orchestra conductor Leopold Stokowski. Lumet's first wife was movie actress Rita Gam.

The newlyweds postponed their honeymoon. Miss Vanderbilt, now an actress, is appearing nightly in a play at a Millburn, N. J., summer theatre.

The marriage was performed in the West 72nd street apartment of playwright Sidney Kingsley.

Lumet began his career in the theatrical world as a child actor in Kingsley's play "Dead End." He later turned to directing for the stage, motion pictures and television. He directed Miss Vanderbilt when she played last year in a summer stock production of "Picnic."

"We are both going on with our careers," she said.

Miss Vanderbilt wore a beige gown of French lace and a hat of white orchids. The bridegroom wore a gray business suit.

The bride, a great-great-granddaughter of railroad magnate Cornelius Vanderbilt, hit the headlines in 1934 as a "poor little rich girl" entangled in a bitter custody fight between her aunt and mother. The aunt won.

Miss Vanderbilt inherited five million dollars on her 21st birthday.

She married DiCicco in 1941 when she was 17. She divorced him four years later. In 1945 she married Stokowski, who was 37 years her senior. That marriage ended in divorce last October. She won custody of their two children.

YM Schedule Of Activities

Fifty boys from the "Y" went to the Bronx Zoo Monday under the supervision of Frank Rebollo and Jack Millard. Assisting were Mrs. William Scism, Miss Una Schafer, daughter of Lou Schafer, "Y" general secretary, Miss Barbara Schwartz and Mrs. Van Steinburg.

On Tuesday, the "Y" boys were to take their final trip, visiting the Dutchess County Fair.

Sixty "Y" boys took their 10th trip to Stewart Airforce Base. They were under the supervision of Frank Rebollo, youth director, and his assistant, Jack Millard. The boys were conducted on a tour throughout the base by Sgt. Campbell. He showed the boys what makes a base function. The boys all had an opportunity to board a C47. They sat at the controls and really enjoyed themselves. From there they were directed to the chow hall. The hungry boys observed the sign as they entered the dining room area saying, "Eat as much as you want but don't waste food." They had hamburgers, cold cuts, potato salad, cheese, soup, spiced cake, iced tea, coffee, milk and crackers.

To climax the summer program, Mr. Rebollo announces that there will be a party Saturday, Sept. 1, at 10 a. m. for all "Y" members in the Boys Dept. There will be refreshments, movies and awards will be given to the YMCA Small Fry League Champs of 1956.

June Dessler Adds New Front to Salon

"I have always liked to keep in tune with the times," said June Dessler, proprietor of the June Dessler Millinery Salon at 279 Clinton avenue, "and since Kingston is growing by leaps and bounds, I feel I want to grow right along with it."

Mrs. Dessler's wishes materialized with the recent official opening of her new salon front, certainly an eye catcher.

An artist in her own right, having studied professional art with William Pogany of New York city, Mrs. Dessler's keen sense of color balance and artistic display made it possible for her to design and set up a colorful window in cardinal red and white.

The interior of the salon creates an atmosphere of glamour with wistful touches of the old days in keeping with the historic background of the house in which the shop is situated.

A native of Brooklyn, June Dessler has been in the Kingston area a number of years. Along with her husband, Leonard, she used to visit the area as a summer resident.

In Brooklyn June Dessler had millinery salons of her own, and when her husband became ill, she gave up her business interests there in order to become a permanent Kingston resident since they both felt the climate would be most beneficial.

When asked about her opinion of the modern trend in hats, June said, "Hats today are very opulent—we are going into a period of wearing what I like to call, 'hattier hats' and I find that new materials, colors and forms not only prove fescinating to the artist but bring satisfaction to the customer, as well."

June Dessler said that although her creations are original, they nevertheless are in nominal price range.

"I am not just in business to make hats," she said, "but also to bring happiness to all my customers."

Her trademark, the rose, signifying the month of June, is prominently displayed in her show room.

Anyone visiting with June Dessler will always find her busy at work. Speaking about her endless energy, she said, "I really can't explain it—perhaps the only thing I can say is that I just love my work."

Fox Out of Quiz Show

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Sonny Fox, the master of ceremonies who kicked up a fuss last June when he inadvertently gave away half an answer on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge" has been dropped from the quiz show. CBS announced yesterday that Ralph Story, a Los Angeles radio (KNX) disc jockey, has been signed to replace Fox starting with next Sunday night's program. The network gave no reason for dismissing Fox. He will continue to do a CBS Sunday noon show called "Let's Take a Trip."

In 'Fair' Condition

Kingston state police reported that the car, operated by Beulah Barlow, 27, of Binghamton, was proceeding east on Route 28 when it went out of control, crossed the highway and went down an embankment.

Employment to

to 7,700,000 in 1975, a 23 per cent over the estimated 6,300,000 labor force. It predicted the counties west of the Hudson would show an increase of 795,000, to 2,555,000, with the bulk of an expected gain of 575,000 east of the Hudson occurring in the suburban counties,. "New York city's gain will be a modest 45,000." it said.

The association said "the region's employment as a percentage of the national will decline from 9.9 per cent to about 9 per cent in 1975."

ON COMMERCE and cultural centers, the report said "the growing suburban market is being tapped almost entirely at its source within the suburbs." It said retail sales between 1948 and 1954 in the suburbs increased 32 per cent, compared to a population gain of 21 per cent, while expansion or recreational, amusement and cultural services increased at a rate of 43 per cent.

"In the same period, however," the report said, "dollar adjusted retail sales volume in Manhattan actually declined by three per cent, and the level of recreational, amusement and cultural services remained static."

IT SAID THAT despite the decline, "Manhattan's shopping areas are by no means doomed." It noted that Manhattan's central business district "still offers a greater number of retail stores with a larger selection of merchandise by far than the largest suburban stores and centers and that it should retain a "unique attraction" for city and suburban shopper "as well as for an ever-growing number of visitors to the region."

"As to the major segment of amusement and cultural activities," the report said, "there is little possibility that Manhattan's preeminence will be challenged by the suburban counties."

Blast Marks End Of Cyprus Truce

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 28 (AP)—The end of a 11-day truce proclaimed by the Greek Cypriot underground was punctuated today by a bombing at the east coast town of Lanarca.

Authorities said the bomb damaged a house occupied by a Greek family but there were no casualties. The bombing was blamed on Eoka, the extremist underground that called the truce.

Meanwhile, the British placed Dr. Themistocles Dervis, Greek mayor of Nicosia under house arrest and searched his home and office. They said they were investigating the mayor "as a result of information received" but did not elaborate. The mayor is an outspoken advocate of union with Greece.

Authorities also announced six convicted Eoka members were taken to Britain to serve out the rest of their sentences.

They said the six had terrorized both their wardens and other prisoners. One convicted Eoka under life sentence escaped from the prison last night.

It takes a GIANT to make a lasting impression

It takes the power of a giant machine to make a perfect impression on any metal. It takes the power of a giant medium to make a permanent impression on any market. That medium is the newspaper, a giant who lives in every town.

The newspaper is a massive force in advertising because it carries the weight of public confidence. People believe in their newspapers, eagerly look for them and shop from them every day. Over 56,000,000 are bought daily, an all-time high.

In no other medium can local retailers, wholesalers and distributors tie in so effectively with the companies whose products they sell. That's one of the reasons why all advertisers spent $3,070,000,000 last year in newspapers.

If you want to engrave a lasting advertising impression, use the newspaper. It reaches further, digs deeper, lasts longer. Step up your newspaper advertising and you'll step up your sales.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Nadlers Trounce Jones Dairy, 7 to 1, To Square Series

Haber Pitches Five-Hitter for Second Victory

Deciding Contest Thursday at Stadium

The City League playoff series between Jones Dairy and Nadler Motors moves to Dietz Stadium Thursday night for the rubber game.

Everybody thought it would end yesterday at the Athletic Field, everybody, that is, except Bill Haver and the Motormen, who squared the series at one and one.

Haber delivered another strong pitching performance, checking the Dairymen with five hits for an easy 7 to 1 conquest. He walked eight but was tough in the pinches as he left 10 runners stranded.

NADLERS assaulted Bruce (Red) Hinkley, the Jones' spot hurler, for 16 hits and, strangely enough, all singles. They settled the issue as early as the first inning with a three-run cluster.

Haber lost a shutout in the second inning when the Dairymen scored their only run without the benefit of a hit.

Clark Mains, a first baseman for the day, was plunked by a pitched ball and promptly erased on a fielder's choice that landed Ronnie Ashdown on first base. Haber walked Nippy Jones and Hinkley to load the sacks and Red Gorsline chased Ashdown home with a long fly ball.

NADLERS combined singles by Eddie Van Loan, Frank Secreto and Paul Giannuzzi, a base on balls to Skip Brodhead, a fielder's choice and Jim Jackson's error for three runs in the first inning. They added single tallies in the second and sixth and a pair in the third.

Van Loan and Giannuzzi stroked three singles apiece with Brodhead, Steve Cea and Haber each getting a pair. The five Jones Dairy safeties went to five different players.

Swimmers Fail In Ontario Try

Toronto, Aug. 28 (AP) — Lake Ontario's icy cold water and strong currents today beat back the challenge of 10 regular competitors and five "wildcatters" — unauthorized entries — in the $27,000 32-mile swim marathon.

Tom Park, a 32-year old Canadian-born husky from Marineland, Calif., was the last regular to yield to the lake. He was pulled into his pilot boat after covering about 18 miles in just under 10 hours. The starting point was Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

Officials had yet to decide how to divide the prize money.

Favorites Advance in First Round at The Twaalfskill

Three perennial favorites for championship honors at The Twaalfskill Club got safely past the shoals of first round action in the annual tournament.

George Hughes, winner of the crown three times in the last seven years, downed Leafy LeFevre, 4 and 3, and Lou Smith, 5 and 4.

Alvin Boice, a four-time winner in seven years since John Van Gonsic won in 1948, won from Dr. Rodney Ball, 6 and 4, and awaits a second round test with County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

CLARENCE (Dubby) Raichle eliminated Frank Campochiaro, 2 and 1, and is scheduled to play Charles H. Gaffney in his next match.

Charles J. (Jimmy) Turck won from Dr. Douw Meyers, 2 up, and defeated Charles J. Tiano by the same margin.

In other first round matches, Louis J. Smith defeated Burt Haver, 1 up; Judge Bruhn beat Dick Overbagh, 2 and 1; and Charles H. Gaffney tripped Clary Buddenhagen, 3 and 2.

Giants Sign Bonus Beauty For 50Gs Plus

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Mike Francis McCormick, star 18-year-old left-handed pitcher from Bakersfield, Calif., was signed today by the New York Giants to a bonus contract, reputedly for more than $50,000.

McCormick, who stands 6-2 and weighs 185, pitched two no-hitters in winning 12 games and losing none at Makell High School in Arcadia, Calif., this spring. He added three more no-hitters to the list in American Legion Junior baseball competition, and then in the Hearst newspapers sandlot tournament struck out all 15 boys who faced him.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, in announcing the signing, said McCormick would report to the team when it returns to the Polo Grounds here on Friday. As a bonus player, McCormick must remain with the Giants for two years before he can be farmed out.

Every major league club was after the young Californian. Walter (Dutch) Reuther handled the signing for the Giants.

Saxton's Purse Target of Hearing

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—The size of Johnny Saxton's purse for his Sept. 12 title defense against Carmen Basilio will be the subject of a state Supreme Court hearing Sept. 4.

Hyman Chartock of New York city has brought a legal action in which he says that $416, plus interest and costs, is still due him on a $500 judgment returned in 1954 against Saxton and a Ben Stamper, not further identified.

Justice Donald P. Gorman yesterday signed an order directing the hearing in which Norman Rothschild, promoter of the fight, is to be questioned on the probable size of Saxton's purse.

Papers filed by Chartock did not say on what ground he obtained the judgment.

Dodgers Drub Yanks, 12-4 to Win ALL Crown

Bovee's 4-Hitter Carries Brooks To Series Sweep

Doc Smith's Dodgers captured the American Little League championship as Len Bovee let down the Lions Club Yanks with a four-hitter for a 12-4 victory yesterday at the Armory Field.

The win enabled the Dodgers to sweep the best-of-three title series. Last week Bovee pitched the Brooks to a 6-2 verdict in the playoff opener.

BOVEE WAS undoubtedly the game's standout performer. He was tagged hard in only one inning—the fifth—when the Yanks scored three runs highlighted by Fink McElrath's two-run homer. Bovee struck out 11 and passed six.

The Dodgers backed him up with a savage 12-hit barrage against loser George Tomson and reliefer Frank Fay. Tom Cioni gave the Yanks the most fits, getting three hits, including a double. Wayne Elmendorf chipped in with a double and single and Ron Thomas and Bob Smith two singles each. Charlie Rand weighed in with a two-bagger.

THE DODGERS wrapped up the game with a six-run eruption in the fourth that jumped their lead to a commanding 9-1. They scored their final trio in the next round before the Yanks made their best flurry of the game.

Tomson got half the Yank hits. Fay unloaded a double. Together they struck out seven and passed four.

With the season now completed, the ALL is readying plans for a field day for parents, players and league personnel. An announcement of the date will be forthcoming after a meeting of managers and officials.

Old-Pro Kayoes Braves

Campanella Gives Dodgers Lift

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's big catcher who wins the Most-Valuable-Player award every other season and then slumps in between, is following the same old script again. But with one ad lib from his bat, the Dodgers are surer than ever they'll retain the National League pennant.

Campy, at 35 the highest paid award in 1951, '53 and '55. But Dodger ever, won the NL's MVP he was a "bust" in '50, '52 and '54. He's wobbling along now with a .220 average.

THINGS HAVE BEEN so bad that Milwaukee decided yesterday to walk Jackie Robinson—loading the bases with two out—to get to Campy with the score tied 3-all in the eighth inning.

But Campy surprised them. He lined a single that scored three runs and lifted the Brooks into a 6-3 victory and whittled the Braves' first-place edge to two games.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL.

IN THE ONLY American League game scheduled, Cleveland bopped Washington 5-2 as Bob Lemon hung up his 198th lifetime victory.

Campanella's single salvaged a split in the two-game set for the second place Dodgers and gave them a victory in their last game of the season in Milwaukee for a 4-7 record at County Stadium.

The Braves are still the team to beat, but now just one game back in the "lost" column the Brooklyns feel they can do it—helped along by an "at home" schedule to end the season. They figured they needed "only six or seven" victories on their current 11-game finale in the west this season and now they've won five of the first seven, with only four games left at Chicago against the last place Cubs.

JOE ADCOCK'S 33rd home run, and his 11th against Brooklyn, and Bobby Thomson's 18th built the 3-0 Milwaukee lead against 20-game winner Don Newcombe. Newk, who has finished only one of his last four starts, left for a pinch-hitter because of a tummy ache in the sixth when Duke Snider hit his 35th homer, a two-run shot, off Gene Conley to start the Brook revival.

Robinson's double and a single by Sandy Amoros tied it in the seventh. Then came the eighth and Conley's fifth straight losing start against the champs since May, 1955. Don Bessent's one-hit relief over the last four frames brought the young righthander his first 1956 victory.

Chico Carrasquel drove in three runs with two homers for the Tribe and scored another after doubling. Rocky Colavito also homered, his 17th, for the second place Indians, once more within seven games of the New York Yankees. Lemon, winning his 17th of the season, gave eight hits and walked home an unearned run in the eighth.

Indians, Jays Remain in Tie

(By The Associated Press)

The Reading Indians and the Schenectady Blue Jays have completed their series in the 1956 Eastern League season but a continuance of the present pace will mean a playoff between the two for the pennant.

The two clubs are deadlocked in first place in the standings with 72-51 records. The only advantage the Indians have over the Jays is the latter's 10th inning tie with Williamsport hanging.

When the Grays and the Jays resume play in this 2-2, uncompleted contest, the Grays will return men to first and second base with no outs in the last half of the 10th.

Reading maintained its front-runner status with a 9-4 victory over Binghamton last night on the losers' diamond while Schenectady was busy scoring a 4-2 home-field triumph over Johnstown.

Albany moved into fifth place in the race with a doubleheader victory over Williamsport, 1-0, and 5-3. Syracuse, too, took a doubleheader, whipping fourth-place Allentown, 4-1, and 11-5.

Pratt Pitches 5 Inning No-Hitter for Rotary

Elks the Victims In FYL Duel, 7-2

Harry Pratt fashioned a five inning no-hit game in the Fraternal Youth League yesterday as the Rotary pulled a mild upset beating the Elks, 7-2.

Pratt, a thin righthander, labored through most of the abbreviated Dietz Stadium duel. He doled out eight walks and had runners on base in every inning except the last but hung on grimly to gain the no-hitter.

MEANWHILE, THE Rotary frolicked to its third win in nine decisions, taking advantage of six walks and four Elks bobbles while getting just three hits. One of the blows was Terry Corkery's long triple in the fourth that tallied the last run.

K of C vs. Vols

Before Pratt took the mound he had a 2-0 cushion. George Kidd, the losing pitcher, passed the first two batters and they came around on Corkery's single, Don Hughes' sacrifice fly and a ground out.

KIDD GOT IN all kinds of trouble in the second and was finally yanked for Dan Van Wagenen, but not before four runs poured over. An error opened the door and after a safe fielder's choice, Jim Dickson singled to make the count 3-0. A walk, ground out and a second error allowed the three other markers to cross and sewed up the game early.

A couple of boots around a pair of walks got the Elks their runs in the fourth. A heads-up double play started by Dickson at second base and completed by catcher Tom Oulton at home choked off the budding rally.

Van Wagenen pitched creditably after taking over from Kidd. Corkery's three-bagger marked the only safe hit off the righthander. He struck out four and walked two.

The loss was the Elks sixth against four wins.

Harriman Awaits Aides Report on Trotting Feud

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—Gov. Harriman is to receive from aides a report on a running feud between the State Harness Racing Commissioner and the U. S. Trotting Assn. (USTA).

Commissioner George P. Monaghan conferred yesterday with Jonathan Bingham, the governor's secretary. A spokesman for the governor's office said Bingham would discuss the situation with Daniel Gutman, counsel to the governor.

BINGHAM AND GUTMAN will then report to Harriman, the spokesman said. No date was specified.

The governor's office declined to discuss the nature of what was termed "material" turned over by Monaghan in response to the governor's request for "explanation and comment" on the dispute.

USTA President Lawrence B. Sheppard had said that Monaghan, an appointee of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, had not carried out recommendations of the Moreland Commission, which investigated harness racing in the state.

THE USTA SAID stock still was held in some harness tracks by individuals the Moreland panel had recommended be barred from holding it.

Monaghan replied that Sheppard had demonstrated "outrageous hypocrisy."

The USTA also has refused to recognize some penalties imposed by harness commission judges on harness drivers.

MONAGHAN HAS said the USTA was trying to take over control of harness racing in New York state.

The Harness Tracks of America (HTA) last Friday backed up Monaghan. The organization of 18 major tracks called on Harriman to investigate the conduct of what it termed a "disgruntled clique" of USTA officials.

Van Aken and Leininger Reach Finals in Woodstock Tourney

A couple of old golfing cronies—defending champion Bill Van Aken and Henry (Bud) Leininger—will vie for the Woodstock Country Club's golf title in a 36-hole duel next Saturday.

It will be the third straight trip to the finals for Van Aken, who also holds three Wiltwyck crowns, and the first for Leininger.

Both learned the rudiments of the game at the old Wiltwyck golf club.

VAN AKEN survived a tough second round match with Fred Allen, winning 2 and 1, before eliminating Harold Dungey, 3 and 2 in the semi-finals.

Leininger, trailing 2 down at the end of nine, rallied to oust Victor Allen, 4 and 2 with a back nine 33 in his semi-final match. He also came from behind to edge Walter Van Wagenen, 2 and 1, in the first round, then beat Allen Waterous, 6 and 4.

Van Aken won from Harry Kapreilian, 8 and 7, in the first round before downing a surprisingly stubborn Fred Allen.

The summaries:

First Round

Bill Van Aken defeated Harry Kapreilian, 8 and 7.

Fred Allen d Dave Halpert, 8 and 7.

Harry Kennedy d Herb Waterous, default.

Harold Dungey d Connie DeLoca, 6 and 5.

Bud Leininger d Walter Van Wagenen, 2 and 1.

Allen Waterous d Walter Seaton, 1 up.

Frank McCahill d Deanie Elwyn, 4 and 3.

Victor Allen d Harry Hohnhorst, 4 and 3.

Second Round

Luedee Scores 6th Round TKO Over Provizzi

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Because he stopped thinking and did what came naturally, middleweight Jerry Luedee today held a technical knockout victory over Bob Provizzi and a date to meet British Empire middleweight champion Pat McAteer on Sept. 17.

Luedee, a rugged rangy 165½ pounder from New Haven, Conn., likes to slug away with his opponents. Manager John Scavone felt that Jerry would do better and absorb less punishment if he used his head for thinking instead of just catching.

"I want you to think before you make your moves against Provizzi," said Scavone to his 24-year-old fighter before the Provizzi scrap at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

So Jerry—no dummy, by the way—paused before punching against the unorthodox ex-gob from Brooklyn. At the end of four rounds, Luedee was behind. Scavone switched signals and told Jerry to go out and fight in the fifth.

Luedee thereupon staggered the pudgy 160-pound Provizzi with a right to the face that opened a nasty cut over Bob's left eye and followed with a thumping left to the jaw. After that Provizzi was a soft touch for the now freewheeling Luedee. Referee Petey Scalzo stopped the fight at 2:40 of the sixth with Provizzi reeling and bleeding.

Town of Ulster Field Day Hailed As Huge Success

Approximately 250 adults and children participated in the first annual Town of Ulster Little League field day Sunday at the Chamber school diamond.

Contests in volley ball, horseshoes and softball featured the day's activities. The softball games matched the parents against the small-fry in separate encounters. Prizes were awarded winning teams and of course, refreshments were served.

Warren Miller, chairman of the day's festivities, expressed pleasure with the turnout and hailed it as a great tribute to the growing interest of Little League ball in the Town of Ulster. The program capped action in the ULL for this season.

The league is readying plans for its first annual banquet to be held sometime in October. John Cook is chairman of the affair which will be for parents, in addition to little leaguers. Part of the plans is to secure a well-known ball player to act as guest speaker.

In final diamond action Saturday, the ULL Giants bowed to the Esopus Yanks 4-3 in an exhibition game. Previous to that, the Ulster team had defeated the Esopus Giants 14-2 in another exhibition encounter.

Yonkers Qualifies For Legion Series

Togus, Maine, Aug. 28 (AP) — Yonkers, N. Y., has won the Section A Junior American Legion baseball championship and qualified for next month's Legion world series at Bismarck, N. D.

The Yonkers team defeated Everett, Mass., 9-4 in the second of two double elimination games yesterday. Earlier, Everett beat Yonkers 3-0.

Yonkers had defeated Everett Sunday 10-0.

Everett hurler Gene Alberigi, who was knocked out of the box in Sunday's fourth inning, came back with a five-hit shutout. He also hit two doubles and scored one of three runs.

Double plays by the Everett infield erased Yonkers scoring threats in the fourth and seventh innings.

Canadian Boat Wins Second Lap In Harmsworth

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Harmsworth international speedboat trophy race was forced into a third heat run-off today when a mishap took the United States defender, Shanty I, of Seattle, out of competition shortly after the start of the second lap.

Miss Superset, the Canadian challenger, finished the race alone, bringing the two boats to an even standing with one race each.

Before the defender dropped out she had set a lap record for the race at 110.37 miles per hour.

Shanty's trouble was not immediately determined. Shanty accepted a tow which automatically took her out of today's race. She is eligible however to start again tomorrow. The winner tomorrow will win the trophy.

The Canadian challenger's fastest lap was the fastest at 93.703 mph and her average for the 35 mile race was 83.258.

Good Counsel Timed in 1:58.5

Du Quoin, Ill., Aug. 28 (AP)—Grand Circuit harness racing started a five-day stand at the DuQuoin state fair with Good Counsel, a bay filly owned by Castleton Farms of Lexington, Ky., establishing two world records and a new track mark.

Good Counsel's time of 1:58 1/5 for a mile in the first heat of the $7,481 Breeders Filly Stake yesterday broke all records for two-year old harness horses. A 10-length victor in this heat, Good Counsel took the second dash of the race for two-year old pacers in 2:00 2/5.

THE TWO-HEAT clocking of 3:58 3/5 broke the world record for that category. Frank Irvin was in the sulky.

Cassin Hanover, owned by Mrs. Charlotte Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and driven by Fred Egan, won the $7,673 Breeders Filly Stake for two-year old trotters with times of 2:05 and 2:05 4/5.

In today's card, Hambletonian favorite Egyptian Princess went to the post with six others in the $6,778 Gainseway Farm Filly Trot.

The previous record for a two-year old was 1:58 3/5 set by Adios Boy in a time trial three years ago. Good Counsel also broke the mark for pacing fillies which was 1:58 4/5 in a time trial in 1933 by Adios Betty, the filly race record of 2:00 4/5 by Floating Dream and the track record of 1:59 by Dudley Hanover three years ago.

SCALING THE FISH

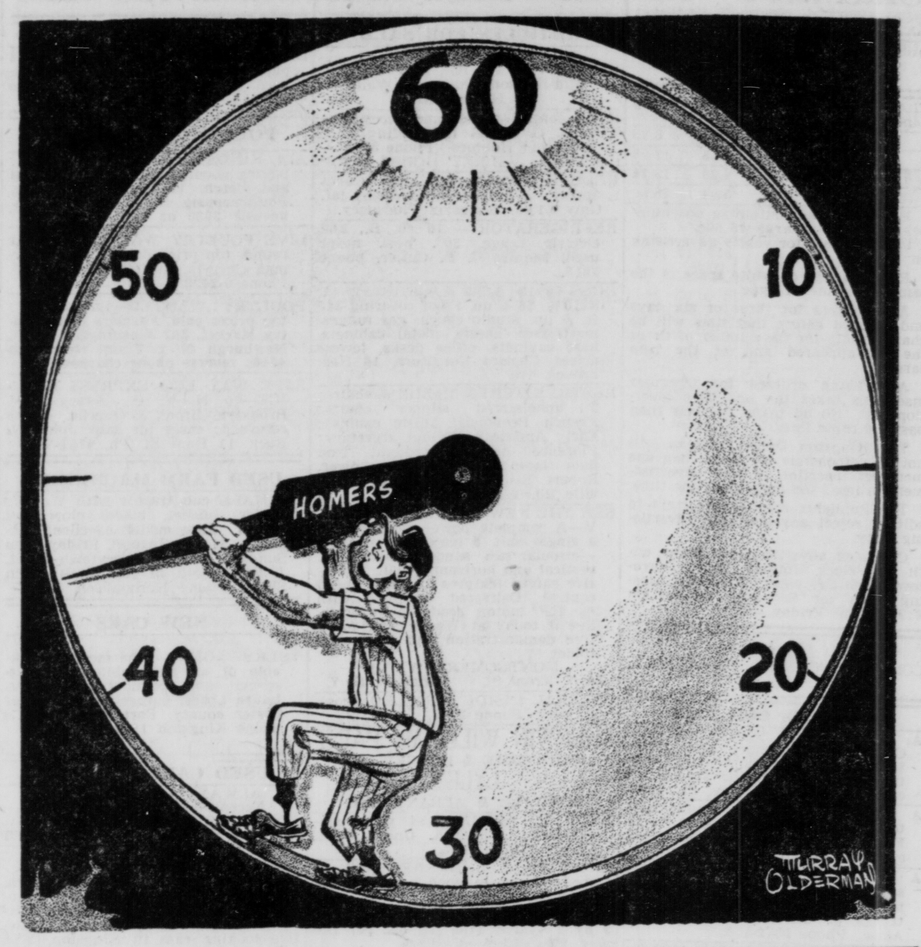

IF YOU KEEP BASS, WALLEYES, ETC., ALIVE ON A STRINGER OR BY OTHER MEANS UNTIL READY TO KILL AND CLEAN THEM, YOU MAY FIND IT EASIER TO SCALE FISH BEFORE OPENING THE BODY CAVITY. IF YOU DRESS FISH TO CREEL OR REFRIGERATE AS YOU CATCH THEM, SCALES, IF LEFT ON, BECOME SET AND HARDER TO REMOVE BEFORE COOKING. THEY'RE EASILY REMOVED WITH THESE TIPS:

FILL A DISHPAN WITH WATER TO COVER FISH AND YOUR SCALING ACTIONS TO PREVENT SCALES FLYING ALL OVER. ADD 1 TABLESPOON VINEGAR TO DISSOLVE SLIME AND LOOSEN SCALES.

ANOTHER WAY: POUR HOT WATER (NOT BOILING) ON FISH TO LOOSEN SCALES, THEN SCALE. A SPOON, HELD AS SHOWN, WORKS WELL.

The Icelandic sea trout is a migratory brown trout that spends some part of his life in the ocean. When he comes back from saltwater, the migrant is deep bodied from ocean feeding and his brownish color is replaced by a silvery coat heavily covered with charcoal black spots.

He is a handsome strong fish common to northern Europe and the British Isles. Here in Iceland, sea trout average about three pounds in weight—but 10 and 12 pounders are always a possibility. They are found in most salmon rivers and many rivers where no salmon appear. Pound for pound the sea trout will outfight that princely gamefish.

FISHING a long riffle on the Haffjadara River recently, I hit a run of five pounders—all 27-inch fish by American standards. I have been using a 4½-ounce glass fly rod for salmon, consequently, my tackle was light enough to give the trout plenty of freedom.

None of my fish pulled off more than 20 yards of backing—which a salmon would do in a matter of seconds—but they took to the air in frenzied end-over-end leaps. One trout made 12 consecutive jumps before the fly pulled loose.

In three hours I hooked 19 fish and landed nine for a total weight of 56 pounds. Strangely enough, three anglers fishing about a mile upstream from me caught nothing. I had evidently waded into the front ranks of moving trout.

COMMERCIAL netting of salmon and sea trout is prohibited in all except a few Icelandic rivers. The bulk of the market fish are taken on rod and reel, thus all fish must be killed and given to the river owner.

This is sound conservation in comparison to heavily netted North American waters, many of which are already decimated, where limits and legal lengths are put on sport fishing. Char and brook trout which are also found in many Icelandic rivers and lakes are also in this same category. The owner will give you permission to fish and in some cases even supply a boat—but the fish belong to him.

Erskine Wins British Title

Cardiff, Wales, Aug. 27 (AP) — Welshman Joe Erskine won the vacated British heavyweight boxing championship tonight by outpointing England's Johnny Williams in a rugged 15-round bout. Williams weighed 198¾. They met before a crowd of 10,000.

Erskine, unbeaten in 29 previous professional fights hoped to convert tonight's victory into a stepping stone for an ultimate shot at the world crown. The British title was vacated last month by Don Cockell, now retired.

Think of Everything

New York (AP) — Researchers have come up with a new testing dummy now. Her name is Galatea. She is a man-made nobody with sponges for lungs, wood sheeting for a heart, and cotton to fill the interior spaces—all constructed around the real heart of a human chest. The model is used by X-ray technicians in experimenting with techniques and films to improve the knowledge of radiology—the use of X-rays, radium and other radio active substances in diagnosis and treatment.

President Returning To Capital

Pebble Beach, Calif., Aug. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower took off at 8:37 a. m. PDT today for Washington, to resume government business conferences and to map second term campaign strategy, ending his 4½ day California vacation.

The President took off on the Columbine III from the nearby Monterey Naval Air facility field for the 9-hour flight on a cold, gray morning.

The visibility was 5 miles and there was a scattered 400-foot ceiling.

Both Eisenhower and his wife were smiling as they boarded the plane. He wore a brown suite, Mamie wore a black dress, small velvet hat and a black and white overcoat on which was pinned a huge orchid.

The tanned and relaxed President was accompanied on the flight by three bridge-playing friends—Ellis Slater, president of Frankfort Distilleries; Frank Willard, New York investment broker, and William E. Robinson of New York, president of Coca Cola.

Also aboard were his physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder; Lt. Col. William G. Draper, his Air Force aide; James C. Haggerty, press secretary, and Mrs. Haggerty.

15 Hurt in Clashes

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 28 (AP) — Fifteen persons were hurt in Mendoza last night in a clash of police and firemen with students demanding the resignation of the rector of the University of Cuyo. A government communique said seven firemen were injured by rocks and six students, a fireman and a street peddler wounded by gunshots which "were not from police firearms." Early today a small band of students burst into the home of the rector, Dr. Germinal Basso, and wrecked much of the interior before police ejected them.

Widow Found Dead

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—A 56-year-old widow was found dead today in her upper West Side apartment. A sister who lived with her told police the victim died after two prowlers entered the apartment and attempted to rape both women. Police said they found Mrs. Elizabeth Devaney lying dead on the floor of the apartment she shared with her sister, Miss Margaret Daly, about 50, at 620 W. 152nd street.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Veterans Urged To File Now for Schools, Training

With Korean GI Bill training expected to reach its peak this fall, veterans planning to start education or training with government assistance were urged today by the Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, to file their applications now.

THERE WILL be a tremendous rush when schools open their doors next month, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, warned, and delays are certain to result. Some 56,000 Korea veterans in New York will go on training rolls this fall. Nationwide, more than three-quarters of a million trainees are expected by VA. Application forms may be obtained at the local Veterans Administration Contact Office. The completed application, along with a photostat or certified copy of the veteran's separation paper, should be sent along with his application. The papers should not be sent to VA headquarters in Washington, D. C. To help school-going veterans make their arrangements in advance, VA issued a checklist of steps that must be taken before they enroll.

The first item is the choice of a goal, and of a training program that will lead to the goal. Sheehan explained that since the law allows a veteran only one change of program, he should make sure he chooses correctly.

Second item is for veterans who are not sure about their GI training goals. These veterans may request vocational counseling to help them arrive at a sound choice. They need only fill in the appropriate space for counseling on VA's GI training application form. Third point cautions veterans to be sure the course they plan to take has been approved by the State in which the school is located. This information is available at the Contact Office, but not at VA Headquarters in Washington.

Fourth point urges veterans to complete arrangements for admittance to their school before applications with the VA. This step, Sheehan said, will save time and trouble for veterans, for they must know beforehand whether they can meet the school's requirements for admission.

FIFTH POINT asks veterans to send their applications to VA as soon as possible, after they have completed arrangements with their school. This will enable VA to iron out any snags that may develop before school starts.

Sixth point instructs veterans to check their VA applications carefully before giving them to VA. Sheehan said an incomplete application can cause delay because VA will have to write to the veteran for the missing information. Each application must, of course, be accompanied by a photostat or certified copy of the veteran's separation paper. Seventh point involves veterans with dependants. Sheehan said these veterans should have the necessary proof of dependency ready when VA requests it. For a wife, this would mean a photostat of the marriage certificate and, for a child, a photostat of the birth certificate.

Eight point has to do with finances. Sheehan urged veterans to take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes that long, under the law, for a veteran's first monthly check to reach him. The reason is that payments can only be made after each month of completed training, and not before. Further, before VA may make a payment, it must receive a certification signed by the veteran and his school, saying that he has been in class all month. Law allows VA 20 days after receipt of certifications to get checks in the mail.

Final point applies to veterans in training. Sheehan reminded them that they and their schools must submit the monthly certifications as soon as possible after the end of each month of training, so that VA may pay them their GI allowances on time.

Nurse Who Shook Infants to Death Faces Sanity Test

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP)—Stunned parents of three infants, whom a weeping 220-pound pediatric nurse has admitted shaking to death, filed into county courthouse today for a coroner's inquest.

AND WHILE they were preparing statements, counsel for the nurse, Virginia B. Jaspers, 33, said: "We definitely intend to have this girl examined by a psychiatrist. In all probability," Atty. Edward L. Reybolds added, "There will be more than one psychiatrist.

Meanwhile details of the tragedy kept Coroner James J. Corrigan busy this morning.

It wasn't until yesterday, when police said tall, husky Miss Jaspers had admitted fatally injuring one child, and that she probably was responsible for the deaths of two others, that the parents of the victims learned their babies died of other than natural causes.

SHORTLY AFTER the police announcement, Corrigan made public the names of all three victims and added that she inflicted a head injury on an 8-week-old baby, and broke the leg of a 3-month-old girl. Police disclosed that the "suspicious death" of the 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Kapsinow of this city had triggered a four-day investigation.

Corrigan identified the other victims as Bruce Malkan, three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Malkan, now of New Canaan, and formerly of New Haven, and Cynthia Hubbard, 11-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubbard of Guilford, and formerly of New Haven.

Mahoney Will Run In Tydings Spot

Baltimore, Aug. 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney, who narrowly lost the Democratic primary last May, was tagged last night to replace the ailing Millard E. Tydings as the party's candidate for the U. S. Senate.

THE STATE Democratic committee, by a 97-55 vote, selected the 54-year-old Baltimore contractor over Mrs. Eleanor Tydings, wife of the former senator and daughter of former U. S. ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies.

Early today, Mahoney said he would revive the bitter 1950 campaign between Tydings and Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler as an issue. "I'm going to take out after Butler throughout this state and make sure the people know about the fraud perpetrated on Tydings six years ago," he said.

COMMITTEE members were urged by Mrs. Tydings' supporters to name her so she might carry on her husband's vengeance campaign against Butler.

Tydings, who served 24 straight years in the Senate, was ousted by Butler in a bitter campaign for which Butler's side was reprimanded by a Senate elections subcommittee. It said "backstreet type" tactics were used.

Says Labor Gains Not GOP Action

Forest Park, Pa., Aug. 28 (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says the American working man is well off in spite of, rather than because of, the Republican party.

The 29-member executive council of the labor union organization Meany heads is meeting here this week to consider possible endorsement of candidates in the 1956 election campaign—a subject which may come up today.

But Meany, in talking with reporters yesterday, took issue with what he said were contentions at the GOP national convention last week that the Republican party is the party friendly to labor.

"What they said about the American worker never having it so good, that's true," Meany said. "But I don't think the Republican party did it."

Instead, he gave credit to "the good old American dynamic economic system, which is still running strong in spite of what the Republicans are trying to do."

Dulles Hails

forded the United States and other nations which joined the first treaty may claim the same rights.

IN DOING THIS, Dulles made clear, he was putting Japan on notice if it signs a treaty with Russia recognizing Soviet control of the Kurile Islands the United States may assert sovereignty over the Ryukyus including the military base island of Okinawa.

The Japanese have been attempting to negotiate a peace treaty with Russia in Moscow. Russia did not participate in the San Francisco peace conference with Japan.

In discussing the Suez problem, Dulles implied that the United States was ready to negotiate on any kind of an arrangement for the canal's future which would be broadly acceptable to other countries.

Dulles said the problem of the precise arrangements which might be made was not primarily a problem for the United States. He said other countries whose well being depends on shipping through the canal are primarily concerned with saying what arrangements would restore confidence among the canal's users.

IN RESPONSE to several questions Dulles made a plea for avoiding settlement by slogan, as he called it, and for concentrating on practical matters. Thus, he argued against saying that he did or did not want the canal "internationalized" is the kind of grandaise slogan which which makes agreement on solutions to practical problems more difficult.

The practical problems, Dulles said, come down to such matters as who makes the rules of the canal's operation, who picks the pilots, who maintains the waterway.

Plane Fire

and to cooperate with law enforcement agencies. The Division of Safety will soon offer an arson detection course to better equip our firemen in recognizing evidences of crime at the scene of a fire, and in helping to bring about proper enforcement."

Prendergast told the volunteer firemen:

"The people of this state have a moral obligation to you and to your families to see that you are given every protection on the job. As director of the Division of Safety....I am especially concerned that this obligation be fulfilled ..."

In discussing the firemen's risk of injury or death in the line of duty, Prendergast mentioned the new Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law enacted at the last session of the Legislature and signed by Gov. Averell Harriman.

Prendergast promised a campaign to obtain a "realistic appropriation" from the Legislature "for the expansion and improvement of vitally needed fire-fighting programs in this state."
